Stands Pat, Refuses To Resign

One Member of Kansas City Police Board Will Not Voluntarily Quit

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 2—(P)—Gov. Forrest Smith tried again today to talk Hampton S. Chambers into resigning from the Kansas City police board.

And for the second time Chambers came out of the hour long conference determined to sit tight until the governor brings formal ouster charges.

Last week Smith said he would remove both Chambers and R. Robert Cohn, the only Republican member, if they did not quit voluntarily.

Today Chambers said the governor made no threats. He said Smith was relying on persuasion alone.

To See Governor Again

Both Chambers and Cohn were scheduled to see the governor again this afternoon. Cohn was expected to arrive here about mid-afternoon, Chambers said. Both are in town for meetings of the Missouri Peace Officers' Association.

KANSAS CITY, May 2—(P)—City officials today studied methods of stopping gambling and racketeering in liquor establishments.

An ordinance designed to tighten the liquor control law was introduced in the city council last night.

The move followed a federal grand jury's report that a $34,500,000-a-year gambling operation centers in Kansas City. The measure would empower the city liquor control director to suspend or revoke the license of any tavern or other establishment without notice or hearing. The present law requires a hearing.

Liquor Director Fred R. Johnson has already moved against one tavern and is seeking evidence against other establishments named in the federal jury's report.

Chambers talked with the governor about an hour and a half yesterday and returned to the capitol for another conference this morning.

Before he went into the office he told newsmen he planned to sit tight and defy the governor's request that he and R. Robert Cohn resign from the embattled board. Chambers' term expires next October and Cohn's in October, 1951.

Visited Smith
State Sen. Paul D. Winans, Kansas City Democrat, said he and Henry McKissick, North Side Democratic leader, also saw the governor. Both were allied politically with the late Charles Binaggio.

Winans said they told the governor they had some recommendations for the police board but the governor replied there was no vacancy.

J. L. (Tuck) Milligan, the board president, resigned last week but the governor has not announced his successor. One board member—Sheridan E. Farrell—was replaced last week by Elmo B. Hunter, 34-year-old lawyer.

Both Chambers and Cohn were appointed by former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. Milligan and Farrell were Smith appointees.

Slayings Brought Fire
The police board came under fire after the gangland slayings April 5 of Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta in Kansas City. Binaggio, North Side Democratic leader, was a Smith supporter. The killers have not been found.

A federal grand jury stepped into the situation last Saturday with a report listing the annual racketeering take in Kansas City at more than $34,000,000.

The governor followed up yesterday by asking the Jackson county circuit court to call a grand jury as soon as possible—probably next Monday when a new term of court starts.

The Weather

Partly cloudy this afternoon, high near 70. Occasional showers tonight and Wednesday near 60.

Temperature: 7 a. m. 48 degrees; 2 p. m. 71 degrees.

Lake of Ozarks: 5.6; rise .5.

Fifth of Rum Not Much For Elephant

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 2—(P)—When Koko got the colic it took a block and tackle, six bales of hay and a fifth of rum to put her on her feet.

The 50-year-old elephant was lifted by the block and tackle. Each time a little space appeared, hay was shoved under Koko until she was on her feet.

The swig of rum helped revive her, but didn't make her tipsy.

Bids Opened on Sale Municipal Airport Land

All Offers Lower Than Cost of Property to City

Bids on the sale of the city airport property, located about five miles west of Sedalia, which were opened and read during council proceedings at the city hall Monday night were somewhat lower than anticipated.

The airport property, which cost the city $55,118.39 including 881.66 acres, three buildings and the drilling of a well, is in the process of being sold. Money obtained from the sale will be utilized in paying for the proposed new Sedalia airport east of the city.

The highest bid, out of the eight submitted, totaled $46,783 for the entire tract of land. Jack Funk bid $33,903 for five tracts of land, tract 5, totalling 93.33 acres; tract 3, totalling 260 acres; tract 6, consisting of 85 acres and tract 4 and 2, composed of 215 acres of land. The total $46,783 figure was made up by another bid on tract 1, consisting of 233.33 acres, which was a bid of $12,880.17 submitted by Harold Stephens of Sedalia, route 3.

The Bidders:

The eight bidders are as follows: W. H. Bond, 404 East Seventeenth street, $4,620 on 83.85 acres, tract 6.

Clarence B. Anderson, 659 East Tenth street, $8,530 on tract 2, 120 acres.

L. J. May, Sedalia, route 3, $6,600 on tract 2, 120 acres. Henry W. Mason, Madison hotel, Parsons, Kas., $7,201.49 on tract 2, 120 acres.

Harold Stephens, Sedalia, route 3, $12,880.17 on tract 1, 233.33 acres. Jack Funk, 518 West Broadway, $33,903 on five tracts, 2-3-4-5-6, consisting of 653.33 acres of land.

John C. Ryan, Sedalia, route 5, bid on all tracts of land, 881.66 acres for $37,000.

E. W. Thompson and Everett Burton bid on the entire tract for $39,825.

A committee, composed of Henry R. Harris, Herbert Mason, William Bunn, Will Carl and C. L. Carter met this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Third National bank to analyze the bids preparatory to making a report and recommendation to the council by May 12.

Alger Hiss Is Disbarred

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—Alger Hiss, former high State Department official convicted of perjury, was disbarred today from practicing law in New York state.

The appellate division of the Supreme Court formally struck Hiss' name from the roll of attorneys.

It ruled that his two-count perjury conviction in federal court here constituted commission of felonies and that Hiss therefore ceased to be a qualified attorney.

Hiss was convicted by a federal court jury Jan. 21, 1950, and four days later was sentenced to a term of five years in prison. The case is being appealed.

The former State Department official was found guilty of lying under oath in denying that he ever gave secret government papers to Whittaker Chambers, self-styled courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Exceptionally Heavy Voting In Florida and Alabama

By The Associated Press

Exceptionally heavy early voting especially in Florida and Alabama, was reported today as four states held important primary elections.

Florida drew the center of the spotlight because of the bitter, no-holds-barred struggle for the Democratic senatorial nomination between Claude Pepper, the incumbent, and Rep. George Smathers of Miami, a 36-year-old war veteran.

In some Miami precincts, lines of voters a block long waited their turn at the voting machines. Perfect weather aided the turnout.

Council Receives Eight Bids For Airport Purchase

The City Council met in regular session Monday night with Mayor Herb E. Studer presiding and all councilmen present as follows: Pete Menefee, Harry Moore, Walter Smethers, Elmer C. Summers, Emory L. Ellsworth, Earl Lashley, Jim Reed and John Vandekamp. Mayor Studer named the following standing committees to serve: Street and Alleys, Moore, Reed, Menefee.

Public Buildings and Grounds, Ellsworth, Moore, Smethers, Fire and Water, Lashley, Sumner, Moore.

Printing and Ordinance, Smethers, Menefee, Lashley.

Finance and Taxes, Summers, Vandekamp, Ellsworth.

Open Bids For Airport Sale

Bids on the sale of the airport property, west of Sedalia, were opened. There were eight and they were handed to a committee composed of Henry R. Harris, Herbert Mason, William Bunn, Will Carl, and C. L. Carter to analyze and to make a report and recommendation to the Council by May 12. This committee was named by Mayor Studer and approved unanimously by the Council.

Elmer C. Summers was voted president pro tem of the Council by his fellow aldermen.

On motion of Alderman Ellsworth, third ward, it was voted to install a blinker light at Twelfth street and Arlington avenue.

Simon Kanter was granted a renewal of his license to sell liquor by the drink at Main street and Osage avenue and James H. Jonson to sell 3.2 beer at 616 South Ohio avenue. An application by G. O. Hawley, to sell package liquor at 214 West Fifth street, was placed on file.

Plea By Letter Carriers

The following letter was read and filed at the request of the Letter Carriers' Association:

John Maragon Is Sentenced

WASHINGTON, May 2—(P)—John Maragon, a one-time hanger-on around the White House, was sentenced today to serve eight months to two years in jail for lying criminally to senate investigators.

Maragon was convicted last Wednesday on two charges of perjury himself about his bank accounts and former job.

Federal Judge Jennings Bailey gave him the minimum sentence of eight months to two years on each count. The judge said he could serve the two sentences at the same time.

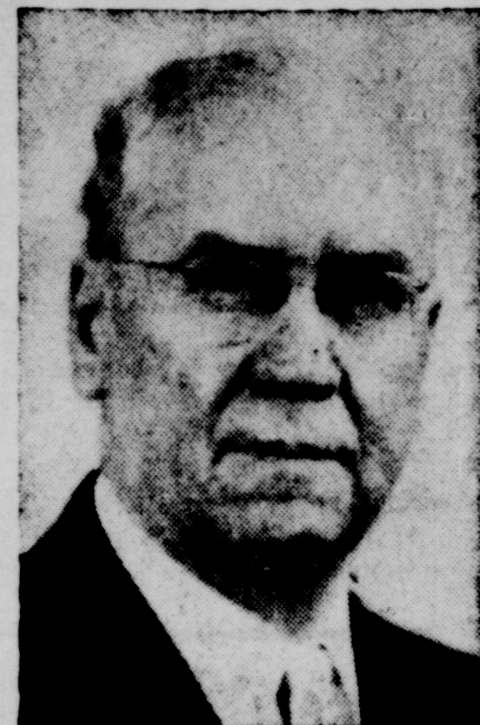

Maragon's lawyer, Irvin Goldstein, asked for Maragon's release on bail and said the case would be appealed. He said he believes some questions of law are involved and he proposes "to appeal in good faith and not for purposes of delay."

There were scattered showers in Alabama, but that had no noticeable effect on the voters who were deciding, among other things, the composition of the Democratic state committee. A significant states rights fight underlay that decision.

In contrast to the situation in the two southern states, not so much interest was apparent in Ohio and Indiana, also holding primaries. The voters turn out in Indiana was spotty.

Significant returns from the Florida election were expected to begin about 7 p. m. (CST)

Missourians Will Receive Journalism Honor Awards

James Todd, president and publisher of the Moberly Monitor-Index, for years has been prominent in state and regional press association circles.

Elzey Roberts, publisher of the St. Louis Star-Times, has been on the newspaper since his graduation from Princeton university in June, 1915.

Important Events In World News

PHILADELPHIA, May 2—(P)—Powerful rocket installations aimed at Alaska, Norway and Sweden have been built by Russia in the Arctic and Baltic areas, says a 33-year-old escapee from a Soviet concentration camp.

Victor Martunuk, a Russian naval engineer, disclosed the secret operations yesterday through his attorney, Ivan M. Czup.

Martunuk now is in Montgomery county jail, Norristown, Pa., awaiting House action on a bill to provide him with "lawful residence" in this country, the lawyer said.

LONDON, May 2—(P)—The labor government last night won a House of Commons ballot on a minor issue by a single vote, beating back a surprise Conservative attack mainly to shake Laborite prestige.

The parliamentary observers said an adverse vote on such an issue — a Conservative proposal for a one thousand pound ($2,800) appropriation cut — probably would not have forced the government to resign.

The House, sitting as a committee of the whole, cast a tie vote of 278-278 over the Conservative proposal to reduce the salaries of transport minister Alfred Barnes and his assistants. The Laborite committee chairman, James Milner, broke the tie with a vote in the government's favor.

WASHINGTON, May 2—(P)—Britain shipped $17,731,128 in gold to this country in the first week of April, the census bureau reported today. British gold shipments here in March had totaled only $9,405.

The bureau said foreign-owned gold in the federal reserve banks of this country increased $7,796,318 during the week to a $4,520,139,549 total.

TEHRAN, Iran, May 2—(P)—A general strike by 4,000 students today closed Iran's only institution of higher learning.

Seeking increased facilities for work as internes, 1,500 medical students at Tehran university struck two weeks ago. The university's remaining 2,500 students walked out in sympathy today.

The students paraded thru the city and camped outside the parliament building.

WASHINGTON, May 2—(P)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley today asked Congress to keep the draft law alive because, as far as he can see, "there has been no letup in the aggressive extension of Communism toward its goal of world domination."

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff was the first witness as the House armed services reopened hearings on proposals to extend the draft. It is due to expire June 24.

Speaking of recent events such as the Baltic plane incident, Bradley said the situation "frankly gives us little cause for comfort and little excuse for delay."

"Certainly it does not support discontinuing the selection service act."

Governor Names Period For Bond Drive

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(P)—Gov. Forrest Smith today designated May 15 to July 4 as the period for a Savings Bond Independence drive.

To help the campaign for U. S. savings bonds, the governor urged that flags be flown on May 15 and bells be rung at noon that day.

Medals to Two Newsmen of Missouri

Recognition For Outstanding Work In Journalism

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 2—(P)—Medals of honor for distinguished service to journalism will be awarded to the St. Louis Star-Times, the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant of the Netherlands and to four individuals by the University of Missouri as a part of the Journalism week program Friday, Dean Frank L. Mott announced today.

Individual winners of the honor medals will include James Todd, publisher of the Moberly (Mo.) Monitor-Index; Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, executive vice-president of the Houston (Tex.) Post and wartime head of the WACS; and Joe Alex Morris, journalism school graduate here and a contributor to the Saturday Evening Post.

Presentation Journalism Week
Presentation of the awards will take place Friday afternoon preceding the annual Journalism week banquet.

The Missouri medals are awarded on the basis of outstanding journalistic endeavors over a long period of time rather than for specific instances.

The Star-Times award was made on the basis of editorial incisiveness, independence, and thoughtfulness; its alert news service, intelligently designed to serve the people of its city and region; and its outstanding record of enterprise in the production of a modern newspaper, Dean Mott said.

The award to Todd, he said, was in recognition of his lifetime devotion to the production of an outstanding small-city newspaper, his long service to the Missouri Press Association and other newspaper organizations, and that kindly and helpful influence in his own community, state, and nation which has made him a good citizen and a beloved member of the editorial brotherhood.

Wet Weather Over Country

By The Associated Press

There was a lot of wet weather across the country today but some nearly normal spring temperatures appeared in prospect for much of the chilled Midwest.

Rain pelted areas from Southern Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and into Texas and Eastern Oklahoma. The heaviest falls were in Texas, with a fall of 1.38 inches in six hours last night at Fort Worth. Dallas reported a fall of 1 1/4 inches in one hour. Streams from Lufkin to Lubbock rose to danger points. There also were some showers in the Gulf states.

Rain mixed with snow fell over the Dakotas, Central Minnesota, Idaho, Northern Utah and Western Wyoming. There was rain along the Pacific coast from Northern California northward.

Warmer weather spread over the Plains states and was moving eastward. However, early morning readings in the Midwest, as well as in the northern Rockies and the northeastern part of the country were below normal. Coldest point was Cadillac, Mich., with a mark of 23. At the same time, San Antonio reported 71.

CITY COUNCIL Sidelights

"Twas mighty peaceful (on the surface) at city council meeting Monday night. The session lasted 2,400 seconds. Minutes were read and approved, committees named and approved, motions made and approved.

Present was a fair sprinkling of taxpayers, who when called upon by the mayor, had nothing to say. Most of them came to hear the mayor recommend some appointments—such as a city counselor.

But the matter of appointments by the mayor or by the council was not mentioned. So the present Democratic job holders stay on.

The session was so peaceful and short; but for tired reporters it was one of those kind of meetings they dream about covering.

—O—

Ah, but under the surface!

Take for instance that committee named by Mayor Studer to study and make recommendation concerning the airport bids. In previous caucus sessions Building and Grounds Chairman Ellsworth had proposed certain names for this committee which was his privilege; then the mayor suggested additions, all of which seemed to meet with approval.

But in open council session, the Republican mayor in a prepared statement of recommendation changed the lineup. Not a Democratic councilman expressed amazement or asked for an explanation. All voted "yes" to approve the mayor's recommendation.

Procedure previously considered was that the airport bids, after being read, would be turned over to the committee, some of whom were present at the meeting to accept assignment. The council then would have recessed so the bids could be studied and a report made the same night upon reassembling of the councilmen.

But the mayor's recommendation changed that, too. He didn't want any too hasty action on the bids, being of the opinion the committee should have until May 12 to study them before making a report to a caucus session.

So it appears, as was predicted, the Republican mayor can pull a rabbit out of his hat, and this looks like the first one, much to the consternation of the majority Democrats.

Insofar as the Mayor's technique is concerned the public can find no fault with his recommendations concerning handling of the airport bids. But politically it looks like the mayor pitched strikes into the first inning.

The Democratic councilmen will have to devote more time to battling practice if they expect to connect with the mayor's curves.

Expect Debt To be Doubled

WASHINGTON, May 2—(P)—The government spent $2,588,186,000 more than it took in during the first 10 months of the current fiscal year, the Treasury reported today.

That deficit is expected to be doubled by the year's end, June 30. The Treasury report showed that at the start of this month, the government was three times as deep in the hole as it was at the same point in the preceding year. That year eventually wound up in a deficit of $1,811,000,000.

Revised administration estimates count on this year's deficit, jumping to $5,400,000,000 by June 30 and being followed by a $5,200,000,000 red ink entry for the succeeding 12 months.

The estimates anticipate, therefore, that spending will top revenues by more than $2,800,000,000 during May and June.

Sabotage Ammunition Dump In New Delhi: 31 Killed
NEW DELHI, India, May 2—(P)—An ammunition dump exploded yesterday in a crowded section of Patiala, Northwest India, killing 31 persons and injuring more than a score.

An official statement said Sabotage was not suspected in the explosion, which smashed a wall at the Patiala Fort.

Rain mixed with snow fell over the Dakotas, Central Minnesota, Idaho, Northern Utah and Western Wyoming. There was rain along the Pacific coast from Northern California northward.

More Than 1,000 Line Up Early Seeking Jobs

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—Shortly after dawn, there were more than 1,000 men in the line.

By mid-morning, the number had jumped to 2,500. And the men still had two hours more to wait.

They were waiting to obtain applications to seek jobs as cleaners in New York City departments.

The long queue, beginning at the front of park department offices on 59th street, stretched nearly three blocks.

There are only 110 cleaning jobs open. They pay from $1,920 to $2,040 a year. It costs the men $1 each for an application blank, which officials start handing out at noon.

Five Missouri Students Hurt

Car Crashed Into Bridge Abutment Near Odessa

ODESSA, Mo., May 2—(P)—Five University of Missouri students were injured, three of them seriously, when their motor car crashed into a bridge abutment near here early today.

The three seriously injured are Robert Wehling, 18, of St. Louis, driver of the car; Wayne Morrison, 22, Scottsbluff, Neb., and Robert Eugene Campbell, 21, of Clinton, Mo. Harry Mayfield, 19, St. Louis, and Thomas Walsh, 17, Kansas City, were injured slightly.

State Highway Trooper Dick Gehrig of Lexington, Mo., said he learned from Mayfield that the five were on their way back to Columbia after an evening in Kansas City as part of the annual sneak night of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The five were pledges of the fraternity.

Struck Bridge
Sgt. Gehrig said the car, a 1949 Chevrolet sedan, left the highway about 90 feet in front of the bridge and when it struck the bridge abutment it bounced across the road into the opposite ditch and reversed its direction. The right side of the car was ripped from the frame. Gehrig said the motor and dash board were driven back into the front seat.

Two of the students, Wehling and Morrison were knocked unconscious and Campbell, was semiconscious when Gehrig arrived. The State Trooper said the only one able to give a coherent story was Mayfield.

Occurred Early Today
Mayfield, he said, told him that the five had left Columbia about 8 p. m. last night for Kansas City where

Hal Boyle COLUMN

The poor man's philosopher on the death of trees.

By Hal Boyle

VALSETZ, Ore.—(AP)—It is a sad and stirring sight to see a great tree die.

It gives you a lonely feeling as if you were watching God or your father or something else you revered go down in solitary protest.

On a high hill here in the costal mountain range I watched two sky reaching Douglas firs sawed down within a half hour, and it was like seeing the death of old heroes.

Each had stood for a century or so before the white man came to blight these eternally rain-wet mountains with his wish for wood, his desire for shelter.

Trees Like People

These tremendous fir trees (and they are tremendous) are strangely like American people. They are great advocates of free enterprise, they reach for the life giving security of the sun.

They will fight like unholy devils for sunshine, which to them is wealth and prosperity. They will grow like mad to get it. But if they lose it they sicken and give up. They simply won't live in another tree's shade as the hyena hemlock is glad to do.

But the ones that win out in this competitive grasp for solar prosperity, the ones that crowd out the weaker trees, are more beautiful than fair women, more towering than strong men.

Some have grown for 400 years or more and shoot 250 to 300 feet into the air in green needed splendor, proof that standing still can be as heightening sometimes as travel is supposed to be broadening.

Trees Cut Down

Well, there they stood, the two trees I am talking about, two trees wet at the foot and dry at the top, two trees in a virgin forest, and both as old as Shakespeare, but both still living. And three men came and assaulted them as I watched, a guest in the lumber camp. The men who cut down the two trees were paid $25 to $30 a day to do so. They wore metal helmets like nature was at war with them, as it was.

Two men carrying a portable power saw approached the trees and made incisions as precise as a surgeon performing an appendectomy. Then the third man had to get down to the decisive muscle, the thing man always has to return to.

He took an ax and made a deep niche in the saw scar behind the way they wanted the tree to fall, that is, he was the west wind if they wanted the tree to fall east. He put a wedge in the west wound, and by sledge blows he drove it in with the forces of pointed steel and flexing flesh.

Sudden Crack, Then the Fall
This tiny 6-foot figure at the base told the great tree the direction in which it must die.

There was a sudden crack, a shudder clear through the tall stem, and then it began to fall. It went down with a whispering surprise, a shower of broken greenery, and came to earth with a great and final groan. It shook any listening heart. Loggers ran for shelter. The flying branches thrown off by a falling tree are known to them as "widow makers." They can telescope a skull.

An odd thing about these men who make their living out of killing trees—their defense is that one slain Douglas fir can make a six-room house—is the feeling they have for what they destroy.

Reds Take Over U. S. Town

(NEA Telephoto)
Frederick Rau, of Mosinee, Wis., places a sign in front of his home announcing sale in Russian rubles as the town gets into the spirit of being Communist-dominated for a day. The American Legion is sponsoring the idea to show citizens what they would be in for should the Reds ever take over Mosinee.

They get a kind of forest guilt complex.

"I guess nothing in the world that has lived so long is killed so quick," a lumber camp superintendent said. He knew that with all his weapons for survival he wouldn't live as long as the thing his men cut down. But there is one difference between the death of men and trees. A big tree dies with more dignity, sighing in a forest, than men do gasping in a hospital.

Program at Van Natta School

Van Natta school observed the last day of school Friday April 21st with the teacher and pupils enjoying a wiener roast at the noon hour.

In the evening commencement exercises were held. This being the thirty-eighth such celebration to be held at Van Natta school.

The stage was decorated as a spring scene in keeping with the class colors, pink and green. The three graduates, Carole Brandenburg, Ann Harding, Rose Brandenburg, all dressed in green and white organdy, and wearing corsages of pink roses, were seated in front of the stage.

The program was opened with a prayer by Virginia Landis after which the following program was given: piano solo "Dance of the Midgets", by Bonnie Gorrell; welcome, Rose Brandenburg; piano solo, "Hanging Gardens", by Langdon Starke; Class Will, Ann Harding; recitation, "My Sister's Graduation", Rosalie Alexander; address by Rev. J. G. W. Kirschner, who was introduced by Wayne Starke; piano solo, "Toy Soldiers on Parade", by Kay Brandenburg;

Captured Near Scene of Holdup Shooting

Suspected as perpetrator of a jewelry store holdup shooting, man (center), describing himself as John J. Barrett, a seaman of Roxbury, Mass., is grasped by policemen and a detective following his capture in New York City. Barrett was apprehended shortly after Jacob Wasserman, jewelry store owner, was shot and critically wounded in an attempted holdup. (AP Wire-photo)

All Day Session of Better Homes Club

The Better Homes club met at the home of Mrs. L. F. Payne on April 7th in an all day session.

At noon hour a contributive dinner was served to nine members and four visitors. The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Walter Eads. Roll call was answered by telling an April fool joke.

Miss Lillian Watkins gave a short talk on conserving time and energy.

Games were led by Mrs. Ralph Lee. The May meeting will be with Mrs. Clay Thomas.

Grade School Pupils Make Tour of City

Twenty-seven Bothwell grade school pupils recently toured places of interest in Sedalia. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harry Runge, Mrs. Jack Roder, Mrs. W. W. Rader, Mrs. Raus Sprinkles, Mrs. E. E. Rehmer, Mrs. Charles Mawhorter and the teacher, Mrs. Melvin Dexheimer.

The Sedalia Democrat company was the first place visited. Here they saw the print operators in action, the lead plates being made and the presses, and in addition to the mechanical end of the newspaper business, they saw how the news was gathered.

The Beatrice Foods company was the next place the group toured, where they saw package ice-cream being made, smoozies and cottage cheese. They were all treated to a smoozie when leaving the plant.

Toured Telephone Company
Next they toured the telephone company, where they saw calls being answered by local and long distant operators. Mechanical technicalities were explained and the children saw the mass of incoming wires, necessary to carry on the phone system.

From the telephone office, they went to the Old Missouri Homestead where Mrs. Okee Rice took the group through her beautiful place of business and explained little items of interest about the scenery and lighting.

At the noon hour, the group went to the Liberty Park, where they enjoyed a basket dinner in the shelter house.

After lunch, the group visited Taystee Baking company, where they saw apparatus used in mixing and making the dough for the bread, the ovens and wrappers.

The Town and Country was last on the group's itinerary, where the children saw the step by step process of manufacturing shoes.

At 3:00 p. m. the group went home tired and happy from a wonderful day of seeing places of business in Sedalia.

Dresden School Closing Day

The closing day of the Dresden school, of which Miss Lula Wheeler is teacher, was held Friday, April 21.

The morning was spent playing ball, other outdoor games and taking pictures.

At the noon hour a dinner, to which all contributed, was served and during the afternoon the following program was presented by Miss Wheeler and her pupils.

"Welcome" by Sandra Ellen Whitfield; songs, "Vacation Is Coming" and "Happy Time Is Here" by the school; recitation, "Vacation Is Here," Davy Woodward; piano solo, "The Postman," by Carole Whitfield; trio, "Summer Days" by Kay Whitfield, Esther Shepherd, Virginia Shepherd; play, "What We Will Do," Garnett Van Natta, Lloyd Dean Shepherd, Carole Whitfield and Sandra Whitfield; piano solo, "May Day" Elaine Van Natta; play, "The Frosted Cake" by A and B class of 12 pupils; trio, "Twill Bird" Virginia and Esther Shepherd and Kay Whitfield.

Presented Gifts
Presentation of gifts for perfect attendance were made to Sandra Whitfield, Carole Whitfield, Kay Whitfield, Elaine Van Natta and Wayne Van Natta.

Reading circle certificates were awarded to Sandra Whitfield, Carole Whitfield from the second grade; Elaine Van Natta, fifth grade; Virginia Shepherd, sixth grade; Esther Shepherd, eighth grade; Robert James Cook, eighth grade.

The closing song was "Blest Be the Tie."

The pupils and teacher, Miss Dora Benz, from Walnut Grove school; Mrs. J. D. Green and pupils from Jackson school were present during the afternoon and enjoyed the program as well as the parents and neighbors of Dresden.

Cardinals Win Eviction Suit

ST. LOUIS, May 2—(P)—The Cardinals are the victors in the suit brought by the Browns to evict them from Sportsman's park here, where both clubs play their home games.

Umpire in the case was Circuit Judge Robert L. Aronson.

He ruled yesterday that the Browns, who own the park, can't oust the wealthier Cardinals until their lease expires in 1961.

The Browns based their case on a claim the lease was forfeited in the 1947 sale of the Cardinals to Fred Saigh, present owner and president, and the late Robert E. Hannegan.

Judge Aronson called this "fine spun reasoning" that doesn't hold water. He ruled the Browns are not entitled to the $222,500 in damages they had asked.

Saigh was elated. He announced the Cardinals will go ahead with plans for a new stadium "for the convenience and comfort of our fans."

Under terms of the lease, the Cardinals pay an annual rental of $35,000. The club estimated its total cost for using the park, including its share of expenses, runs about $100,000 annually.

Utah Oil Production Stepped Up
SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—The new crude oil production industry in Utah reported production of 640,000 barrels in 1949.

Forty-nine wells were completed compared with 18 in 1948. In last year's drilling, 25 wells produced some oil, one brought in gas and 23 were abandoned as dry holes. Production in 1948 was listed at 15,000 barrels.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round
Truman Refuses Compromise On Rent Control

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—President Truman promised a group of mayors the other day to heckle Congress until rent controls are extended, but he refused to make it a "last appeal." He said that rent controls might even be needed for another year, despite the fact that some of the big-city mayors who came to him for help were willing to compromise.

Mayor William Devin of Seattle, Wash., suggested: "Mr. President, we think it would help if you could come out and say this extension will be the last one."

"I can't say this is the end," replied the President. "The end of rent controls depends on economic conditions a year from now."

"You can't set a definite date," agreed Mayor Thomas Nichols of Canton, Ohio, who warned that removal of rent controls would cause "serious repercussions."

"It would be too much of a shock to go off controls right away," observed Los Angeles Mayor Fletcher Bowron. "We should decontrol by degrees, starting with the high rent brackets."

In greeting the delegation, Truman declared: "I am certainly very happy to see the mayors come here on this very knotty problem. There is no uncertainty in my mind on the need for extension of rent controls. I have told the Congress—and I intend to keep telling them—we need rent controls extended."

Boston was represented by C. T. Kiley, chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, who said he had been instructed by the mayor to declare his "unqualified support for federal rent controls."

"We need continuation of rent controls in our community," broke in Mayor Lester E. Holloway of Muncie, Indiana. "We are highly industrialized. Too many rents would be hiked if controls are removed."

A small-town mayor, Russell S. Wallace of Aberdeen, South Dakota, also spoke up.

"We are a small city," he said. "But there are many small cities in the United States where rent control is still needed."

Veep's Humor

In his mellow Kentucky drawl, the Veep told about the Methodist preacher down Paducah way who was giving a sermon out of doors on a lovely spring Sunday. A bee kept buzzing around him, and at the height of the eloquence, disappeared up a pant leg.

The preacher beamed on his attentive audience, placed his hand on his chest, and said, "Brothers, I have love and kindness in my heart."

At that moment the bee stung. The parson swatted his knee and added: "But, brothers, I've got hell fire in my britches!"

Inside Spain

An intent, wavy-haired figure sat in the exclusive Senators' gallery like the master of a puppet show during the debate on economic aid to Franco Spain.

He was Charles Patrick Clark, Franco's American lobbyist, who with elderly and querulous Senator Pat McCarran, has been beating the drums for a loan to Spain.

In the end, Marshall plan aid to Franco was defeated. And here are some of the arguments, taken from U.S. intelligence files and known to many Senators, which influenced the vote.

1. Dictator Francisco Franco is hanging on by the skin of his teeth, largely through claims that he will get an American loan. Last summer, 15 top Spanish generals had a showdown with Franco. All but two pointedly said they could no longer support him.

Franco begged for time to prove the United States was backing him. In August, American fleet units under Admiral Connolly steamed into Spanish ports and Franco won his reprieve. But the latest inside dope is that unless he can wangle a loan this year, the Spanish military definitely will ditch him for a return of the king.

Franco and Vatican

2. Meanwhile, Jose Aguirre, leader of the militant Basque Catholic resistance, has been conducting a stirring campaign in the United States and Western Europe. He was in Washington, as well as New York, and Latin America, organizing support among Catholic leaders. Aguirre, president of the short-lived Basque republic, told Washington officials he had the complete backing of two great Catholic prime ministers—Georges Bidault of France and Alcide de Gasperi of Italy. This, of course, is a matter of record.

Actually, relations between Franco and the Vatican are reported far from good. There is no concordat between Spain and the Vatican. Franco has, in fact, offended the Vatican by insisting that he name Spanish bishops.

3. Under the Franco regime, corruption has reached a new high. The story is told of cement manufacturers forced to sell thousands of tons of the scarce product at low cost to the army. The cement was allegedly for fortifications behind the Pyrenees, but it was not used for this purpose. Instead, most was sold on the black market for more than double the manufacturers' price.

Businessmen are required to pay tribute to Franco's Falange party through "social security allowances" for workers. Sixty-four per cent of the funds go for overhead and "political hierarchy of the syndicates."

4. Thanks to widespread poverty increased by a devastating drought and Franco's police crackdown on any Democratic movements, Communists are successfully infiltrating into the Falange. A Catalan Communist report last November bragged, "the work within the syndicate is giving good results. We must carry further this advantageous experience of combining the legal possibilities with the clandestine fight."

There were Communist demonstrations and cries of "down with capitalism!" in Madrid on November 29 and 30.

U. S. Security Policy, Attacked By Press, Poses Problems

By Bruce Blosant

A magazine editor addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors contends the Atomic Energy Commission is pursuing a policy of secrecy that amounts to censorship of the press and is retarding vital scientific progress.

Almost at the same time a Washington diplomatic correspondent calls attention to the conflict between government officials and reporters over what information about foreign affairs should properly be made public.

Examine first the government's view of the problem. In atomic energy or anywhere else that touches military defense, it is legitimately concerned over security.

In foreign relations, the belief is that our officials must have the right of private discussion and negotiation both among themselves and with other governments; public knowledge of the deliberations can handicap them seriously.

There is also an attitude in the State Department and other quarters that the press is too frequently irresponsible with secret information, that it is more interested in being first in print with any story than in being right and wisely cautious with the real story.

From the reporter's side the notion is growing that government is exaggerating its need for privacy. He sees these dangers in the trend:

An agency of government which is walled off from the public gaze and from possible controversy does not have the necessary guidance of public opinion. It moves ahead in isolation, badly out of contact with the people it is serving.

Many questions which are actually issues of basic public policy are being decided by officials in the secret stage of negotiations, with Congress and the public compelled either to accept an accomplished fact or to repudiate the executive branch on the basis of inadequate information.

Such issues definitely belong in the public arena. Any officials who try to keep them out of it are depriving the people of their rightful role in a democracy. The time to discuss a fundamental shift in national policy is before—not after—it is made.

The security problem is admittedly delicate in an age when military and scientific progress so often are closely intertwined. There's no doubt science is suffering from the limitations of secrecy; the free interchange of ideas is interrupted.

To some extent, of course, this can't be helped. But our key defense men probably have been too gingerly in their handling of such information. A more liberal attitude toward its release to the public wouldn't likely damage our cause greatly. Some men in Congress and the government itself agree with the press on this.

One thing the press can do on its own. It can show a more grown-up approach to the getting of today's most vital news. The issues are too important to be made the subject of school-boyish competition among reporters to see who'll be first. That's all right for fires and trials, but it doesn't fit a time when world conflagrations can grow from the spreading of inaccurate and incomplete information.

Mute, But Damning, Testimony

From the moment the Russians announced they had fired upon an American plane "over Latvia" there was little doubt in U. S. minds that the craft had been callously shot down. Our official note to the Soviet Union so charged.

We could not have foreseen, however, that so much circumstantial evidence would be collected in support of that charge. Altogether, the Baltic has yielded up two rubber lift rafts, a small boat, a wooden block, a metal can of rescue flares and now a 375-pound airplane wheel assembly.

The link with the missing plane seems strong. One of the rafts and the wheel assembly bore holes which suggest that the plane had been riddled with bullets. The raft also was blackened, apparently by fire. The wheel assembly was picked up by a Swedish fishing trawler about 30 miles off the Latvian coast.

A Swedish expert estimates from knowledge of normal drift in that sector that the plane probably went down about 63 miles from Latvia. Though all this evidence simply tends to confirm the probable fate of the plane, we must all be grateful to the alert seamen and fishermen in the Baltic who have helped to prove our case in the eyes of the world.

Eph. 1:17-23; Phil. 4:8-9

A PROBLEM-CENTERED GAZE IS UNHEALTHY

Just a word before we leave the point of looking at yourself even in God. Whatever gets your attention gets you, and you must not be the center of attention even when you are in God. Our faith is God-centered, not you-centered. So look away from your sins and diseases; look away from yourself—look away to God.

Look away from your sins and diseases. If your gaze is on sin and disease—is sin-centered and disease-centered—you'll never get well. I asked some people in a sanitarium to sew and knit for China, that "continent of pain." As they had countless hours upon their hands, I thought they would crowd the lady whom I designated to take their names. Not a person gave a name. Then I saw what had happened: these people weren't self-centered because they were sick; they were sick because they were self-centered. And they would never get well until they turned their attention from themselves to God and others.

In airplanes in France there is a cup in front of each passenger with a sign, "For airsickness." In English planes the notice reads, "In case you feel indisposed, the steward will help you." In the English planes scarcely anyone gets sick, but in the French planes almost everyone does! Passengers look at the word "sickness" and the cup—enough! But when they read the sign in the English planes they think of a "steward," the attention is called off from self; the sickness is pushed to the margin. In an airplane in America we were riding a gale of 80 miles an hour, and over mountains—the air was churned up terribly. A lady opposite me reading a book on "Health" yelled when the plane seemingly dropped out from under us, and she forthwith got sick. But I pictured myself as riding a bucking bronco, felt the exhilaration of the experience, and rode the bronco and the storm unscathed. A prominent minister preached 10 consecutive Sundays on "How to avoid a nervous breakdown," and ended up with one. His psychology was bad—it was centered on a breakdown. It should have been centered on the Resources. My Father, God, I see where I should be centered—Thou art my center and my circumference. In Thee I am safe and steady and growing. In sickness and sin and myself I wither. For I am fashioned in my inmost being for Thee—Thou Homeland of my soul. I thank Thee. Amen.

Try 'Dressing Up' at Home And Watch Hubby's Reaction

A man writes: "Ten years ago when I married my wife she was a beautiful girl. She's still a good-looking woman, when she takes the trouble to be."

"But she never takes the trouble to fix herself up unless we are going out or having friends in. She wears the worst-looking old clothes around home, even though she has plenty of attractive clothes hanging in the closet. If friends drop in unexpectedly she always has to apologize for how she looks. It never occurs to her, I'm sure, that she might take the trouble to look neat and pretty just for me."

That's a mistake many wives make. They plan their wardrobes and buy their clothes with only one idea in mind, to look well-dressed when they are going somewhere. They figure what they wear around the house doesn't matter. Any old thing will do to wear at the breakfast table in the morning, or at dinner in the evening.

The husbands of such women actually see them at their best only once in a while. The picture of their wives that they carry around in their minds is how they look day in and day out—when the wives are thinking it doesn't matter how they look.

Can Be Both Dressy And Practical

A wise wife, even though her clothes budget is limited, doesn't overlook the fact that stay-at-home clothes are an important part of her wardrobe.

They can be quite practical and yet still be bright, feminine and becoming. And they can be worn with an air.

If you haven't been paying much attention to how you look around home, try this experiment. Start paying as much attention to your appearance as you would if you had guests in your home. Dress for those imaginary guests. And then see if your husband doesn't surprise you by paying you an unexpected compliment at the breakfast table or by taking a quick second look at you when he bestows his home-coming kiss in the evening.

THE STORY: Falling in love had not been Clemency Norton's idea when she became a governess to Baba, small daughter of Syria and Jon Amberley. But soon Clemency realizes she has lost her heart completely to Piers Amberley, Jon's brother, at whose luxurious North African home the family lives. Syria, despising her weak husband and in love with Piers herself, is bitterly sarcastic when she hears the news. And, although her lips are smiling, Clemency recognizes open hatred in her eyes. And Clemency has the uncomfortable memory of Jon watching his wife with an almost frightening grin of sardonic amusement.

XXV

CLEMENCY and Piers dined alone that night after all. Syria was still nursing a headache, and Piers dismissed with a shrug the fact that he did not know where Jon was.

There was only one crumpled rose leaf. Once or twice Clemency caught her beloved in a thoughtful mood, and with her natural intuition sharpened by her love, was sure that there was still some shadow of his old unhappiness hanging about. It must be Jon—but still he avoided that subject of his brother.

The day ended with an episode which upset Clemency.

When she finally went upstairs she passed as usual through the night nursery to her room.

She had accepted it as a matter of fact that Loulie would have gone to bed. Baba nearly always woke at 9 o'clock for a drink and went promptly to sleep again, when she could be depended upon not to stir until the morning; but she had a habit of throwing off the bedclothes.

A small night lamp burned in the room, and as she crossed the floor by its light Clemency was suddenly aware that the room was actually cold.

The long window that opened onto the balcony beyond was usually tight covered by a slatted jalousie; tonight it was wide open and the cold air blowing directly from the desert was also blowing straight in on Baba's bed where she lay sound asleep, every stitch of the covers thrown off her.

With an exclamation of dismay Clemency hurried across to Baba's bed. As she drew the covering over the sleeping child, Baba woke and sat up shivering.

Then she began to whimper: "Cold, Clemency."

Clemency shut the window, her lips setting angrily. She went back to Baba again, and taking her in her arms, a blanket wrapped about her, held her against her own warm body, chafing the little feet in her hand.

How could such a thing have happened? Clemency wondered if she ought to get a hot water bottle—though she doubted if there were one to be had. Then as Baba warmed up she decided against it.

When finally the child was back in bed sound asleep again but coughing a little, Clemency went to her room, determined that tomorrow Loulie was going to get into trouble.

The moment she woke to find the Arab girl putting down her morning tea tray, she remembered, but before she could say anything Loulie told her:

"Miss Baba has a little cold, I am afraid," and added: "Shall I not bathe her?"

"Of course she has a cold!" Clemency sat up, looking at her assistant accusingly. "What were you thinking of, Loulie, to leave the nursery window open last night? Why did you open it?"

Loulie stared back, her sordid dark eyes wide with amazement. "I did not," she exclaimed. "I did not go near the window."

"But I found it wide open, Loulie," protested Clemency. "Baba could not have opened it, you know."

"Of course not," agreed Loulie readily, her pretty face distressed. "But—it was shut when I left the room. The Sidi Jon sent me away after Baba had had her drink—"

"The Sidi Jon?" asked Clemency. "You left him with Baba?" "Yes, he said he would sit with her in case she woke again. I said she would not, but he was quite angry—he told me to go away. That he could be alone with his own child sometimes if he wished to. I had to obey."

"I see, Loulie," she said. "I should have known you would not be so careless."

"Thank you, Sitt. Shall I keep the little flower in bed?"

"No. But just sponge her face and hands. I will come and take her temperature," said Clemency. Drinking her tea hurriedly, she thought with angry contempt: I suppose he was drinking again. Thank goodness I came up when I did.

Baba's temperature was a little up, and Clemency decided to keep her indoors, but she had reckoned without Mrs. Jon Amberley.

Syrie looked into the nursery to inquire coldly what was going to happen to her daughter that day—obviously implying that she could not expect much attention from her governess.

"I am keeping her in," replied Clemency. "She seems to have caught cold. In any case I should have stayed with her, but Piers went out early—before we were up. He has some business on the oasis of El Hassari."

SYRIE gave her a curious look. "That's 50 miles away. I suppose he's gone to see Robin Cherrington and won't be back till late."

"Perhaps not until after dinner," agreed Clemency serenely. How stupid it seemed that Syria should so resent her engagement. She hesitated, then: "I shall look after Baba in exactly the same way until you find someone to take my place."

"We'll be packing up soon," Syria gave a half-shrug. "It hardly seems worth while importing anyone. Loulie can cope, no doubt, and I'll soon get someone when we get back."

And what will happen to the poor infant meanwhile, thought Clemency in dismay.

The Doctor Says—

Ability to Shrug Off Worries Often Helps to Cure Insomnia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
People who live in cities and follow sedentary occupations are the ones most likely to complain of sleeping badly. Most insomnia is caused by inability to throw off worries and cares of the day.

The person who starts thinking of the office within a few minutes of turning off the light at night is likely to develop chronic sleeplessness. The longer this goes on the worse it gets.

Many people who complain of insomnia sleep better than they think they do. They may be wakeful for short periods two or three times during the night, but really get all the sleep they need. Often they make things worse by worrying about not sleeping. This is unnecessary, as most people can get nearly as much rest for the bodily functions by lying quietly and relaxing in bed as they would if they were actually asleep.

With worry as the principal cause of insomnia, management is apparent. Before going to bed some occupation which takes the person's attention away from the usual worries is desirable. This may take the form of reading some book to one's self, or aloud, preferably one which is rather dull. Other people may relax better if they do hard work of some kind.

The choice of pre-bedtime occupation should be made individually on the basis of personal likes and complete removal from the mental activity which is the major

course of worry. Sometimes warm milk just before going to bed is relaxing. Most people can help by training themselves to relax their muscles.

Unfortunately a great number of people who complain of sleeplessness try various drugs. This tendency to use drugs as an aid in getting to sleep is unwise. The sleep-producing drugs have their place, but most of them are habit forming if taken over long periods.

and after a while they do not even produce the sleep which is desired. Drugs are a poor substitute for healthy living.

Most people living in cities have at one time or another suffered from a certain amount of difficulty in sleeping. The fact that this difficulty is not present constantly with most of us shows that ordinary insomnia is not dangerous. It causes a lot of annoyance and interferes with a feeling of well-being and efficiency but no one ever dies merely by missing a few hours sleep.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week.

Graduation Activities at High Point

High Point school had several graduation activities in April which all four graduates and their teacher enjoyed. Those who graduated were: Bennie Ray Neal, Geraldine Lois Sisemore, Ruby Aline Arndt, and James Arndt, Jr.

On Saturday, April 8, the teacher, Miss Mary Sue Monsees, took the graduates to Kansas City to see the Ice Capades and to shop in some of the department stores.

Graduation exercises were held Wednesday night, April 19. The school room was decorated with snapdragons given by the graduates' parents and paper streamers of their class colors, blue and gold, with a large poster upon which was printed their motto, "Upward Not Downward," as the center of interest. All had corsages or boutonnières of Talisman roses as these were their chosen flowers.

Program Presented
At 8:00 p.m. the following program was presented:

Processional, graduates; salutatory address, Geraldine Sisemore; class inventory, Ruby Arndt; class will, Carol Dunker, seventh grade; class song, graduates; class prophecy, Luther Jordan, seventh grade; class poem, James Arndt, Jr.; valedictory address, Bennie Ray Neal; commencement address, Reverend H. U. Campbell; presentation of diplomas and gifts, M. F. Houk, president of school board; "Now the Day Is Over," sung by audience; closing prayer, Reverend Campbell.

After the program graduates received many gifts from teachers, friends, and classmates while the teacher, Miss Monsees, received some nice gifts from her graduates.

On Friday night, April 21, the graduates and teacher had a special table during the basket supper. An enormous six-tier decorated cake served as the centerpiece.

If Your Adam's Apple is Hardening, Take Heed

By Alton L. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK, April 29.—(P)—Your adam's apple may become a mirror of what age is doing to you, how healthy you are staying. It already has been found to be a fairly good mirror of how much your arteries are hardening. This hardening is one of the leading causes of death.

The studies are being made by Dr. Gustave J. Noback, associate professor of anatomy at Cornell university medical college.

In childhood and youth, your adam's apple consists of cartilage or gristle. As you grow older, it slowly changes into bone through deposits of calcium. Finally, at about 75 or 80, the whole adam's apple will be bone.

This change occurs in everyone. At 55, the Adam's apple is about half bone, half gristle.

Traced by X-Rays

Dr. Noback traced the change by x-rays of hundreds of living people. The parts of the adam's apple which have changed to bone show up as white areas on the x-ray picture.

When half of the adam's apple has changed to bone, there's a very good chance that your arteries have started to harden, Dr. Noback discovered.

This was learned by autopsy findings, comparing the degree of ossification of the adam's apple with the appearance of mineral deposits in the aorta, the great artery leading from the heart. In 80 percent of his cases, the aorta had started to harden when the adam's apple was more than half bone. Hardening of the aorta is the first sign of hardening of the arteries. They become less elastic, and it is harder for the heart to pump blood through them.

So the adam's apple x-rays may become a yardstick to warn of hardening of the arteries, and other age changes, Dr. Noback said. The two events seem to be connected.

Some Age Rapidly

A man of 35, whose adam's apple is like that of a man of 70, may be aging much more rapidly than normal, Dr. Noback said.

He is investigating whether the adam's apple changes may also be related to other defects of aging, such as brittleness of bones, and the ability of the eye to adjust quickly to changes in seeing conditions.

Your adam's apple consists of two rectangular slices of cartilage, set at an angle and joined at the front. In men, each piece is about 2 by 2½ inches. In women, each piece is smaller. The change from cartilage to bone follows a different pattern in men

One Way to Get Attention

By Thomas A. Reedy
BERLIN, May 2—(AP)—The young Communists of East Germany unveiled their "agitation groups" yesterday in a dress rehearsal of Whitsunday's march on Berlin.

They did their practicing only in east Berlin, where it was safe.

The blue-shirted "free German youth" (FDJ) have borrowed an old carnival trick to put on their "agitation" act. They use stooges.

Two groups which set up shop on sun-baked Unter Den Linden, east of the Brandenburg Gate, illustrated how the agitation is supposed to work.

A uniformed FDJ boy gets into a simulated argument with another young German who is not in uniform. This attracts a crowd.

A few mutter angrily when the "unconvinced" youth says that everything doesn't seem so rosy to him and asks what is so good about the "national front" or the socialist unity (Communist) party and what is so bad about the Americans or the British.

The FDJ boy holds up his hand and commands the crowd to give the dissenter a chance. He uses this spot to talk at great length about freedom of speech and opinion.

The deaths of Mrs. Mary Block and her son, Gaston Block, Jr., 47, were listed officially as murder and suicide.

The body of the aged mother, killed by blows on the head, was found covered by a clean white sheet in their home.

The son died of an overdose of sleeping pills.

BIRTHS
Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connolly, of Fresno, Calif., at 12:00 o'clock midnight Saturday. The baby weighed five and one-half pounds and has been named William Henry. Mr. Connolly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connolly, 215 West Seventh street.

Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Staley, Jr., 826 West Sixth street, at 5:36 o'clock Monday evening at Bothwell hospital. Weight: Six pounds, two ounces.

Divorcees Re-married
HARRISON, Ark., May 2—(AP)—Rex Rainey, Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Carmen Rainey, divorced last February, were remarried in a ceremony here Sunday.

The Rev. Golder Lawrence of the First Methodist church said he performed the ceremony here.

Rainey, former Marshfield, Mo., undertaker, is free on $2,000 bond on charges of felonious assault with intent to kill in connection with an attack on Mrs. Rainey by another woman last Oct. 19.

Miss Mary Margaret Evans, 31, Springfield telephone switchboard operator, was convicted March 21 of felonious assault with intent to kill and sentenced to four years in prison. At her trial she testified she entered a bedroom where Mrs. Rainey was alone and fought with her.

Miss Evans testified at the trial that she had a five-year love affair with Rainey. Her bond of $2,000 was continued pending motions for a new trial.

Traffic Cases In Court Today
Two intoxicated driving cases were before Judge Jerry Trotter in police court, this morning. One driver pleaded guilty and was fined while the other failed to appear and his bond was forfeited.

More than $200 in fines was collected, among which were several small bonds, forfeited on minor traffic cases.

Pete S. Bird, Kansas City, arrested Saturday by the police and charged with driving while intoxicated, failed to appear and his $100 cash bond was ordered forfeited.

Bird's brother, Joe, who was charged with being drunk also failed to appear and his cash bond of $25.00 was forfeited.

Finis Noel, Cole Camp, pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and he was fined $75.00. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Jack W. Baasel, Kansas City, charged with speeding on East Broadway, failed to appear and his cash bond of $10.00 was ordered forfeited.

Hospital Staff Met And Held Election
Dr. John B. Carlisle was elected president of the Bothwell hospital professional staff at a meeting held at the hospital Monday night.

Dr. M. P. Shy, retiring president, was voted president emeritus; Dr. Pete Siegel and members of the executive committee are Dr. J. B. O'Neill, Dr. D. P. Dyer and Dr. Gordon Stauffacher.

Letters Issued
Letters of administration have been issued in the estate of Miss Gertrude Englund, who died April 17, 1950, to a sister, Mrs. Ingra Melton, 323 West Fifth street. The petition named as heirs two sisters a brother, and a niece.

D. S. Lamm is the attorney for the estate.

Former Missourian Dies
MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 3—(AP)—William Briggs Gage, 79, former professor of telegraphy at the University of Missouri, died yesterday. He had been ill several months.

Gage also operated two movie houses and a vaudeville theater while there. He came here in 1919.

Paid Wolf Bounties
The county court approved a warrant for $36.00 to Francis Kreisel, of near Cole Camp, for nine young wolf scalps which he caught south of LaMonte.

Divorce Granted
A divorce was granted in circuit court, this morning, by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, to Kathryn Hoyenga from Richard Eric Hoyenga. The court granted the restoration of the plaintiff's maiden name, Kathryn Guymon.

General indignities were alleged.

Woodland Hospital
Admitted for surgery: Mrs. Mary Shull, of Marshall.

Approve Beer License
The county court approved a 3.2 beer license to Mary Schupp, for the dining room at the Elm Hills golf course, south of Sedalia, on rural route 1. The license expires November 1, 1950.

Public Works Loans Approved

The agency announced yesterday additional allotments of planning funds totaling $3,930,000. Of this amount Missouri will receive $220,000; Kansas, $95,000, and Oklahoma, $65,000.

The planning loans and projects include: Cunningham, Kas., $3,500 for sewage facilities costing $95,000.

Albany, Mo., $1,420 for water facilities costing $35,500.

Maryville, Mo., $9,500 for sewage facilities costing $337,129.

Chaffee, Mo., $8,620 for water and sewage facilities costing $198,000.

Square Off to Get Together

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(AP)—The City of Kansas City and the Kansas City Public Service company squared off today in a hearing before the state public service commission.

The transit utility, now being operated by the state while labor and management continue to seek a settlement of their differences, has asked for permission to abandon 12 streetcar and bus lines and curtail service on three others.

The company said the lines don't even pay their own way and, instead, make up the principal source of the utility's $750,000 deficit.

Jerome M. Joffe, special utilities counsel for the city, made a heated speech before the hearing was formally started.

Advertising Man to Address Kiwanis
Carl Postelthwaite, owner and manager of an advertising agency in Kansas City, will be the guest speaker at the noonday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon, at the Bothwell hotel. He will give a "chalk talk" on advertising.

Arthur J. Morgan is chairman of the program for the day.

Combed to Reds
TAIPEI, Formosa, May 3—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalists today officially conceded the Reds had conquered Hainan island but said they had evacuated troops and supplies with "better results than expected."

A government statement said the last National unit was embarked from the south coast port of Yulin on Monday.

It did not say how many troops were withdrawn but declared they would be used in other areas where the Communists would have to fight under less favorable circumstances (presumably Formosa itself and its screening islands).

MacKenzie's Column

By Dewitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the state department, says the capture of Hainan island by the Chinese Communists calls for American action to keep the strategic island of Formosa out of Red hands.

Why? Mr. Dulles doesn't amplify that but leaves us to figure it out. One very obvious answer is that Formosa not only is Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters but is the seat of what is left of the Nationalist government—a castle with a ghost. It's about the last bit of Chinese soil Chiang has for refuge.

But supposing Uncle Sam maintains the Nationalists on the island, what practical purpose will it serve? Does Chiang have a chance of retrieving his position and reconquering China?

Well, a horse-racing addict perhaps would figure Chiang's chances as a long shot. However, the generalissimo maintains that he still can turn the trick if he gets support. Here are some of his reasons:

While the Communists ostensibly have "conquered" the vast mainland, the Nationalists claim that actually there are many areas which still are in the hands of guerrillas who have no use for the Reds and are prepared to cast their lot with Chiang.

For instance, take the great province of Szechwan, seat of the old Chinese capital of Chungking. In this province, through which runs the mighty Yangtze river, there are 140 counties and the Nationalists report that more than 70 of them are in the hands of guerrillas. One estimate places the old Nationalist troops still in the Yangtze valley at 200,000.

And why haven't the Chinese Communists liquidated all these pockets of guerrillas? Probably for the same reason that the Japs were unable to mop them up in all the years of the Chino-Japanese fighting. The vastness of the country and its rugged terrain are adapted to the existence of small bodies of fighting men. It's a territory that is hard to control unless the country is peaceful.

Then there's another important aspect of the situation. It is essential that the Chinese Communists knock out the Nationalist government and military headquarters on Formosa for economic reasons.

A Chinese Nationalist official tells me that it takes the tax on thirty peasants to keep one soldier going. He estimates that the Communists have over 7,000,000 troops under arms. If Formosa can be knocked out and the generalissimo can be rendered helpless, the Reds can demobilize and thereby cut the taxation which is so irksome to the Chinese.

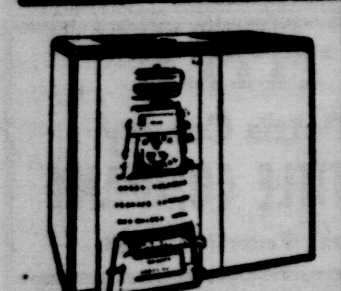

In this connection the terrible famine which has been sweeping the Yangtze valley is harrasing the Red regime. Reports have it that millions are facing death by starvation.

And finally we have to note that Formosa is a highly strategic stronghold lying 100 miles from the Chinese coast on traffic lanes between Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia. This "picture book" island is about twice the size of New Jersey and has a population of some 6,000,000. The island is a treasure house of coal, oil and other essentials.

More to the point, it is an admirable airplane base, and has been called an anchored airplane carrier.

the Philippines in the late war were made with bombers based on Formosa. Not far away lies Okinawa, which America captured with tough fighting and still occupies as an important base.

One assumes that Mr. Dulles must have had these points in mind when he said Formosa should be kept out of Red hands.

Jeers At New York Parade

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—New York's annual May Day parade was held to the accompaniment of scattered jeers from spectators and a few outbreaks of fighting.

Police estimated 13,000 persons took part in the chanting procession down Eighth Avenue to a sparsely attended rally in Union Square. Five persons were arrested on disorderly parades in years.

Eugene Dennis, secretary-general of the Communist party, and other Communist officials under sentence for criminal conspiracy addressed a crowd of about 3,000 at the reviewing stand.

Dennis declared that his conviction and sentencing is proof that the Truman administration and its supporters "are preparing for war."

Sees Great Era Of Opportunity

WICHITA, Kas., May 2—(AP)—American youth faces "the greatest era of opportunity in the history of the world," Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas told a district conference of electrical contractors and union labor Monday.

But ultimate success and prosperity will depend upon ability to live peacefully with people in this nation and abroad, Carlson added.

He spoke at opening sessions of the conference of the National Electrical Contractors Association and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Delegates from Kansas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona were among the 700 registered.

Carlson praised the conferees for their joint meeting as evidence of labor-management harmony.

Atomic energy, aviation, radar, electricity and other scientific discoveries must be harnessed for peaceful use, he said; progress will depend upon solution of the problem of human relations.

Pulitzer Prize To "South Pacific"

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—The fabulously successful Broadway hit "South Pacific" won the 1950 Pulitzer prize for drama Monday while the annual award for fiction went to A. B. Guthrie's best-selling historical novel, "The Way West."

These and other Pulitzer prizes in Journalism, letters and music were announced by President Dwight D. Eisenhower of Columbia University.

"South Pacific," a standing-room-only hit since it opened April 7, 1949, was written and produced by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. It is based on James A. Michener's book "Tales of the South Pacific," which won the Pulitzer prize for fiction in 1948. Rodgers and Hammerstein received a special Pulitzer award for their "Oklahoma" in 1944.

Awards for disinterested and meritorious public service went to the Chicago Daily News and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for a series of articles disclosing the presence of 51 Illinois newspapermen on the state payroll. The articles were written jointly by George Thiem and Roy J. Harris.

Cards Beat Brooks on Wild Pitch

Until The Ninth The Dodgers Were In Front, 2 to 0

By Joe Reichler Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are up to their old tricks again. Next to beating the Dodgers, the Redbirds get the greatest delight out of making the experts look foolish.

Remember those pre-season reports on the Cards? Too old. No reserves. A one-man ball club. Tsk, tsk. Is our face red.

With a lineup shot as full of holes as a slab of Swiss cheese, the scrappy St. Louis gang has managed to win five of its last six games. They capped it off last night with a thrilling victory over their hated rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

3-2 Score
The score was 3-2. Until the last half of the ninth, Brooklyn was in front, 2-0. Starter Joe Hatten had held the Redbirds to three hits up to that point.

Hatten began the last inning by walking Chuck Diering. Enos Slaughter singled Diering to second. Marty Marion, making his first appearance of the season, batted for Steve Bilko and fanned.

Eddie Kazak, another pinch hitter, lined out. One more out to go and the Dodger left-hander would own two straight shutouts. But it never came.

A Wild Pitch
A wild pitch by Ramsdell allowed Schoendienst to cross the plate with the winning run. Hatten was charged with the loss.

Cloyd Boyer, who has taken over the ailing Ted Wilks' relief chores, was the winning pitcher. He relieved starter Max Lanier in the ninth and kept the Dodgers away from the plate in the one inning he worked.

The victory moved the Cards into a virtual tie for second place, a game and a half behind the front-running Dodgers.

It was the only game played in the National League. All other teams were idle, resting up for their inter-sectional clashes. There was no action in the American League. Philadelphia and Boston, only clubs scheduled, were foiled by the weather. A steady Boston drizzle decided matters for them.

One Mile Test For 11 Colts Opens Today

By John Chandler

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2—(P)—Texas-bred Middleground will show his stuff to the blue grass boys today in the $100,000-added derby trial stakes at Churchill Downs. If he wins, don't be surprised if King Ranch pops up as the post-time betting choice in the $100,000 Kentucky derby Saturday.

Eleven three-year old colts were entered for the one mile test, set for 4:23 p.m. (EST). Middleground, who was rated the top sophomore runner in the experimental handicapping estimation of handicapper John Campbell, is expected to be favored for this 13th derby trial. The thing that thickens the plot for King Ranch is another one—On The Mark.

It will mark the first meeting between the sturdy Middleground and several other prime derby candidates, including Calumet farm's Theory and the Brookmeade stable entry of Sunglow and Greek Ship.

Such big derby names as Your Host, Hill Prince, Oil Capital and Mr. Trouble are passing up the derby trial. They are fit and ready to roll Saturday, their trainers declare.

Theory skipped the Blue Grass stakes won by Mr. Trouble last week at Keeneland. This will be the first start for Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan's Sunglow and Greek Ship since they ran one-two in the Chesapeake stakes April 15 at Havre de Grace, Md.

Middleground, one of the best juveniles last season, has been second in three starts this spring. His last was back of Hill Prince in the Wood memorial at Jamaica April 22, where he was carried wide at the top of the stretch and lost ground and any chance to catch the Prince.

A lot of Texas money will be here Saturday, judging by what happened two years ago when My Request was the opening choice over the great Citation. Citation closed the odds-on favorite, but the Texas-owned My Request got the heavy play.

Bob Feller Opens Season In Good Form

'I'm Not Out to Set The World on Fire,' Hurler Said

By Raleigh H. Allsbrook

CLEVELAND, May 2—(P)—What's behind Bob Feller's striking return to form in his two starts for Cleveland's Indians this season?

Better control and freedom from injuries. "That's 99 per cent of it," says Bob.

The big righthander, in an interview last night before the Tribe left for the east, also said he has been "pretty lucky in getting good breaks."

Feller won both of his two starts with polished performances. He pitched a five-hitter against St. Louis on April 22 and scattered eight blows in beating Detroit last Friday.

In 1949 he didn't win his second game until June 14, when he also had six losses tied to his record. He ended that year with 15 wins and 14 losses and many of the fans said this year might be his last in baseball.

Different Viewpoint
The former strikeout king now takes a strictly matter-of-fact viewpoint on his pitching.

"I've broken all the records I ever hope to break," he said. "I'm not out to set the world on fire this year. I just hope I can be a good pitcher and help the club win the pennant."

He also thinks it's pretty early in the season to be talking about how good or how bad he is. But he is willing to discuss some of the contributing factors.

Last year and the year before a sore shoulder bothered him well into the season. In 1947, when he began to go down, he slipped off the mound in Philadelphia and hurt his back and a rib.

This year he worked under wraps in spring training and got cuffed around pretty badly. But he came out without any injuries, as he intended.

Two Rookie Hurlers in Good Form in Am. Assn.

By the Associated Press

A pair of young rookie pitchers are crowding the American Association hero's bench today.

Hoyt Wilhelm, a 23-year old righthander who notched 17-12 for Jacksonville, Fla., last year, twirled his second four-hitter of the campaign to give Minneapolis a 4-1 triumph over St. Paul Monday night.

The victory, the Millers' fifth in six starts, hoisted them into the lead. In posting his second win, Wilhelm allowed only one hit after the second inning to beat veteran Phil Haugstad.

Masterful Chore

Another masterful chore was tabbed by 18-year old Ben Johnson of Milwaukee. The 6 foot 2 inch righthander, who had a 3-2 mark for Evansville, Ind., in 1949, limited Kansas City to seven blows in winning a 2-1 verdict. Mickey Witek homered for the Blues in the second inning, but thereafter only two reached scoring position off Johnson.

Johnson beat rookie southpaw Ed Ford, up from Birmingham where he booked 16-5. Ford weakened after six innings and the Blues evened the score in the seventh on a walk and Jack Weisenburger's double. With two out in the eighth, Howie Moss was hit by a pitched ball and Logan finally singled in the winning run after a walk to Ray Sanders.

Second-place Indianapolis made it nine wins in 11 games and a four-game winning streak by tripping Louisville 3-1. Joe Muir scattered ten hits to win and also singled in Dann O'Connell in the seventh to break a 1-all tie.

Columbus Pasted Toledo
Columbus pasted Toledo with its 10th loss in 11 starts by grabbing a 5-1 decision. The Redbirds collected nine hits off three Hen flingers, bunching three of them with two Toledo errors for three runs in the fifth. The Brood left 16 men stranded.

Today's schedule and probable

Here Wednesday

Miss Mae Young, Tulsa, Okla. who comes to Sedalia on Wednesday night to meet Miss Ellen Olson, Camden, N. J., in the semi-windup on the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling show to be held at the National Guard armory. One other match between women will be held as the opening event, and the main event brings together "Sonny" Meyers of St. Joseph, Mo., and "Dutch" Hefner of Sherman, Texas.

Women Wrestlers Here Wednesday

Women wrestlers will be in the Sedalia ring this Wednesday night, in addition to two men wrestlers, Dutch Hefner of Sherman, Texas and Sonny Meyers, of St. Joseph, who will clash in the main event.

The Hefner-Meyers event should be one of action, as both matmen are evenly matched for this heavyweight bout, that will be two falls out of three with a 90-minute time limit. Both have appeared in the local ring before and fans should know the tactics both use against their opponents.

Ma Young, of Tulsa, Okla., a former Evangelist, returns to the mat ring, after a two year absence. She will tangle with Ellen Olson of Camden, N. J., in the semi-windup. Young is a wrestler with plenty of experience. Her opponent is new in the midwest territory, but her wrestling reputation is outstanding on the east coast. Fans can expect plenty of action in the semi-windup.

Opening the evening of mat action, starting at 8:30 p. m., under the sponsorship of American Legion Post No. 16, will be Eva Lee of Houston, Tex., and Therese Theis, Minneapolis, Minn., in a one-fall event. It is the first appearance of these two girls in the Sedalia ring, according to promoter Pearl Christy.

Jack Hader of Kansas City will endeavor to rule the matches when the girls climb through the ropes.

French Fighter Wins Middleweight Bout

MONTREAL, May 2—(P)—Flashy Laurent Dauthuille of France earned the right to take a crack at Jake LaMotta's middleweight crown here last night as he swept aside New York's Steve Belloise with a seventh-round technical knockout in a scheduled 10-round main bout.

Once the pride of New York's

pitchers:

Minneapolis (Barnhill) at St. Paul (Chandler) night.

Kansas City (Radcliffe-Hood) at Milwaukee (Elliott-Webb) tonight.

Columbus (Haddix) at Toledo (Marlowe) day.

An Old 'Vet' Leads Golfers In Western

133 Players Enter Into the Second Qualifying Round

DALLAS, May 2—(P)—Old in destructible—David (Spec) Goldman—who was a top national golf name when his opponents here were in grammar school, and Buster Reed, 20-year old collegian, led the way today into the second 18-hole qualifying round of the Western Amateur.

Drawing Spec is playing this one with a big belt bracing his side. He suffered a fractured rib recently.

The Dallas veteran, and Reed, a North Texas State college student from Denton, Tex., who is just half Goldman's age, led the first 18-hole round yesterday with two-under-par 70's.

And right behind them were John Olver of Dallas, Morris Williams, Jr., of Austin and a Shreveport, La., star, Jimmy McGonagill. They posted 71's.

Treacherous Course

Heavy rains last night made the Dallas country club's 6,470-yard course a treacherous place indeed as the field, trimmed to 133 players by withdrawals, moved out in the second and final 18-hole qualifying round.

Tomorrow the low 64 shooters will start match play and battle until a champion is determined Sunday.

Defending champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo isn't shooting qualifying scores; he qualified automatically for the championship flight.

In a tie at 72 as the second round began today were Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, a Walker cup star; Charles Coe of Oklahoma City, the National Amateur champion who four-putted the No. 12 green; Herbert Durham of Dallas; Dick Patton of Fort Worth and Raleigh Selby of Kilgore, Tex.

Anderson to be Head Coach Of 1950 College All-Stars

CHICAGO, May 2—(P)—Dr. Eddie Anderson is to be head coach of the 1950 college all-stars for their football game in Soldier field Aug. 11 with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Anderson returns to Holy Cross this year after coaching at the University of Iowa from 1939 to 1949, excepting the war years. He was at the Holy Cross helm from 1933 to 1938.

Missouri U. Defeated Westminster in Golf

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 2—(P)—University of Missouri golfers scored a 14 1/2-6 1/2 victory over Westminster College in golf here yesterday.

fistic lanes, Belloise gave a disappointing show before 11,593 fans, who contributed a gross gate of $44,353.

Referee Tommy Sullivan halted the one-sided affair just after the seventh round started when Belloise, a 31-year-old ring veteran, was incapable of offering any more resistance to his 26-year-old ringwise opponent.

Recollection of National League Baseball in 1800's

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—Except for the years 1877-78 and 1892-99, the National League has been strictly an eight-team league. From '77 through '78, it operated with only six clubs. From '92 through '99 there were 12 teams, and this top-heavy structure produced some of the greatest teams in history.

After three straight Boston pennants, Ned Hanlon's swashbuckling crew from Baltimore took over and reeled off three straight flags.

Colorful Team

The Orioles were one of the most colorful teams in baseball, with such players as John McGraw "hit em where they ain't" Willie Keeler, Wilbert Robinson, Hughie Jennings, Joe Kelley, Jack Doyle and Kid Gleason. All except Keeler later became big league managers.

In 1899, Hanlon went to Brooklyn, taking with him Keeler, Kelley, Jennings, Dan McGann and other Orioles. He promptly won the pennant there in the last season of the 12-club circuit.

Hit .438

Hughie Duffy of Boston hit .438 in 1894, the highest average ever amassed in the majors. Napoleon Lajoie came up with the Phillies in 1896, and Honus Wagner arrived with Louisville the following year. Cy Young, the only pitcher to win 500 or more games, made his debut in Cleveland in 1890, but it was in the 12-club league that he first achieved real greatness, winning 68 games in '92 and '93.

During the National League's existence the life of the organization was threatened five times. Although at times the future was doubtful, the league was always able to withstand the attacks. The baseball wars were with the American Association in 1882, the Union Association in 1884, the Players League in 1890, the American League in 1901-02 and the Federal League in 1914-15.

Greatest War
The Union and Players' Leagues each lasted one year, the Federal two and the A.A. ten. The National League's greatest war was with the American League and this resulted in a new organization gaining a firm foothold in the baseball world. The new league actually was formed in 193 under the name of the Northwestern League, by Ban Johnson.

It wasn't until 1900 that it began agitating for major classification. The first move was to raid the National of many of its star players. The war was settled after two years of bitter strife by a treaty made in Cincinnati when the present national agreement was formulated.

A Victorious Day For Arkansas Teams

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 2—(P)—Leftfielder Marvin Stendel's three-run homer paced Arkansas to a 4-0 victory over the Tulsa University baseball team here yesterday.

Otherwise, the game was a pitcher's battle between Tulsa's John Brechis and Arkansas' John Balay, despite cold, wet, windy weather.

The two teams play here again today. The Arkansas golf team also was victorious yesterday, defeating Southern Methodist University 5 1/2 to 1/2. Welling Eisenman, Randy Warner and Warner Marks of Arkansas won individual matches and James Mosely halved his match with SMU's Raymond Mann. The Eisenman-Warner and Mosely-Marks teams also won.

Joe Walcott to Fight In Germany May 28

CAMDEN, N. J., May 2—(P)—Jersey Joe Walcott and Hein Ten Hoff finally have agreed on terms for a 12-round fight at Mannheim, Germany, May 28.

The match was set yesterday when the contract was signed by Felix Bocchicchio, manager of Walcott, and James Friendman of Bayonne, N. J., representing the city of Mannheim and promoter Leo Koenig.

The fight will be held in the Mannheim stadium, which has a seating capacity of 90,000. The top prize will be $16 in American money.

Under terms of the agreement, Walcott will receive a guarantee of $25,000 plus $6,000 for traveling expenses, all in American money. The Camden, N. J., Negro also will have the privilege of taking 42 1/2 per cent of the gate, less 20 per cent amusement tax.

Life with Tax Gremlins: 2

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters: Uncle Sam, himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups. Some of the articles include comment by Richard A. Mullens, Washington tax expert and author of NEA's annual "Income Tax Primer," which appears each year in the Sedalia Democrat.

AT THE PAY WINDOW

You first meet the Gremlins at the payroll window. Before you can touch your money they clip it. If you are an average industrial worker with no dependents the federal Gremlin takes more than 10 cents out of each dollar (the A.F. of L. says 11½ cents) for your federal income tax. If you are married it will be less, according to the number of your exemptions.

But that is not all. Both state and local Gremlins clip it again for your state and local income taxes. In 31 states and 172 cities and counties your pay envelope is raided for income taxes, in addition to the federal income tax. Then both the federal and state Gremlins clip each dollar of your money for 4 to 5 cents more on account of social security deductions which they collect jointly.

"We would not have an ever-expanding government if the people were conscious of the taxes they are paying to the Federal Government. When the government required employers to withhold income taxes from employees, the government put the worker to sleep."—The Honorable James F. Byrnes.

"Visions" Stimulate Search
SINGAPORE (AP)—Visions of England not only forbade the seers here and in the United Kingdom of a soldier on the shores of a lake have provoked British security forces in Malaya to renew their hunt for Brigadier M. D. Erskine, commander of the Second Guards Brigade. He has been missing since Oct. 30 on a flight between Mentakao, in Pahang state, to Kuala Lumpur, the Federal capital.

"The visions tallied so remarkably that we could not afford to ignore them," said an army spokesman. The forecasts of one of the U.K. seers have proved accurate in the past.

Early American colonists in New England not only forbade the celebration of Christmas as a holiday, but the singing of carols.

Kem Wants Tighter Rein On Arms Aid

Declares Some Is Reported To Reach Russia

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Senator Kem (R-Mo) declared Monday he has received "startling evidence" that Marshall plan countries are "making substantial shipments of war materials, including arms, to Russia and her satellites."

In another speech on the foreign aid question, Senator Jenner (R-Ind) said that every day the Marshall plan "becomes more of a fraud and a swindle."

The Senate is scheduled to vote Friday on the $3,372,450,000 foreign aid authorization bill which already has been under debate intermittently for three weeks.

Kem said the real beneficiaries of U. S. foreign aid may be the Communists, and he shouted to the Senate:

"I oppose the use of American aid by the present British Marxist government to coddle Communism."

He said he believes the appointment of John Strachey as Britain's minister of war "is a key move in a carefully calculated plot of Communist forces to dominate the world."

Kem said that Strachey has "quite a record as a Communist writer and Communist worker." Strachey has said he renounced years ago his early writings in support of Communism.

Kem said that Britain, France and Belgium all have sent war materials to Russia or Russian satellites. He urged that the United States cut off aid to any country which sends war materials behind the iron curtain.

The House armed services committee gave quick approval to a $350,000,000 Navy modernization program which includes plans for an atomic powered submarine and a guided missile ship.

Gambling Hearings

The Communist and Gambling hearings continued in the Senate. Freda Utley, a former Communist, told investigating senators that while she has no proof that Owen Lattimore ever joined the Communist party, his writings since 1938 show "his subservience to Communist party discipline."

On the other hand, Demaree Bess, Saturday Evening Post editor who called Lattimore an old friend, said he and Lattimore were together in China and in 1936 in Moscow and that Lattimore showed no signs of becoming pro-Communist.

At the gambling hearing being conducted by a Senate Commerce subcommittee, Senator Tobey (R-NH) said that telephone companies are "aiding and abetting" gamblers by continuing to furnish them phone service.

The committee is considering a bill to prohibit the transmission of gambling information across state lines.

Members of a Communist girls sports group carry banners and flags as they march on Unter Den Linden in East Berlin's Communist May Day celebration. Looks For Attack From Russia

WICHITA, Kas., May 2—(AP)—A top Air Force general said Monday—May Day in the Communist bloc—that he believes war with Russia is "coming," with Russia as the attacker.

Gen. George C. Kenney, wartime head of allied air forces in the Pacific and one of two 4-star Air Force generals, first made his grim statement at a press and radio conference.

Then he elaborated on it at a luncheon meeting at which he was presented the Wichita Rotary club's gold medal for "distinguished citizenship."

The Kenney told the Rotarians that the international situation now is so "explosive" that war could be touched off "at any moment" by a diplomatic blunder.

Soviet doctrine, he said, is one of "inevitable" conflict with the non-Communist countries.

Aggressive nations "usually go to war when they have war power sufficient that they're pretty sure they can win," he told the newsmen earlier.

"I don't think they (the Soviet) are in that position now. I think that they're trying to reach that point as fast as they can."

Russian leaders "probably" have gone so far as to set a year for attack, he added.

The United States, as "the main hope of the freedom-loving peoples of the world," also is "the primary target of attack by any aggressor seeking world domina-

Orchestra Is Tendered Dinner

The Sedalia Symphony orchestra personnel were guests of the Symphony board Monday night at a dinner in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel, with the Rev. H. U. Campbell, president of the board, presiding.

One hundred and three attended the dinner. The Rev. Warren Neal gave the invocation. The introduction of the board members and other special guests, including the Symphony Society then followed.

Miss Geraldine Teufel, assistant conductor and Abe Rosenthal conductor were also introduced.

A quartet from the Sedalia Men's Choral club sang several numbers. The quartet consisted of Al Domingue, Ad Taylor, Dean Binderup and Charles Maggard. Miss Teufel accompanied the four on several selections.

Dr. Guss C. Salley of Warsaw, amateur magician gave the after dinner entertainment with his usual mysterious slight of hand tricks.

The announcement was made that the election of officers for the board for the coming year will be held on May 22 in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Official Vote On Rejecting Gasoline Tax Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(AP)—Missourians turned thumbs down on increased gasoline taxes last April 4 on a 528,201 to 179,094 vote, the official canvass showed Monday.

The canvass by the secretary of state's office made no change in the trend of tabulations as reported by the Associated Press April 4 and 5.

The completed tally showed only 32 of the 114 counties gave a majority to the proposal to hike the tax from two to four cents a gallon.

Woman Killed By Train

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., May 2—(AP)—A St. Louis-bound Wabash passenger train Monday killed a 70-year-old widow at a railroad foot crossing she has used for 30 years.

The victim was Mrs. Neil Clark, widow of a Montgomery City real estate dealer.

"Kenney said. Such an attack, he added, would be carried out by atom bomb, hydrogen bomb, "or any other diabolical weapon" the aggressor has.

Stands Pat, Refuses To Resign

One Member of Kansas City Police Board Will Not Voluntarily Quit

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 2—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith tried again today to talk Hampton S. Chambers into resigning from the Kansas City police board.

And for the second time Chambers came out of the hour long conference determined to sit tight until the governor brings formal ouster charges.

Last week Smith said he would remove both Chambers and R. Robert Cohn, the only Republican member, if they did not quit voluntarily.

Today Chambers said the governor made no threats. He said Smith was relying on persuasion alone.

To See Governor Again

Both Chambers and Cohn were scheduled to see the governor again this afternoon. Cohn was expected to arrive here about mid-afternoon, Chambers said. Both are in town for meetings of the Missouri Peace Officers' Association.

KANSAS CITY, May 2—(AP)—City officials today studied methods of stopping gambling and racketeering in liquor establishments.

An ordinance designed to tighten the liquor control law was introduced in the city council last night.

The move followed a federal grand jury's report that a $34,500,000-a-year gambling operation centers in Kansas City.

The measure would empower the city liquor control director to suspend or revoke the license of any tavern or other establishment without notice or hearing. The present law requires a hearing.

Liquor Director Fred R. Johnson has already moved against one tavern and is seeking evidence against other establishments named in the federal jury's report.

Chambers talked with the governor about an hour and a half yesterday and returned to the capitol for another conference this morning.

Before he went into the office he told newsmen he planned to sit tight and defy the governor's request that he and R. Robert Cohn resign from the embattled board. Chambers' term expires next October and Cohn's in October, 1951.

Visited Smith
State Sen. Paul D. Winans, Kansas City Democrat, said he and Henry McKissick, North Side Democratic leader, also saw the governor. Both were allied politically with the late Charles Binaggio.

Winans said they told the governor they had some recommendations for the police board but the governor replied there was no vacancy.

J. L. (Tuck) Milligan, the board president, resigned last week but the governor has not announced his successor. One board member—Sheridan E. Farrell—was replaced last week by Elmo B. Hunter, 34-year-old lawyer.

Both Chambers and Cohn were appointed by former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. Milligan and Farrell were Smith appointees.

Slayings Brought Fire

The police board came under fire after the gangland slayings April 5 of Charles Binaggio and Charles Gargotta in Kansas City, Binaggio, North Side Democratic leader, was a Smith supporter. The killers have not been found.

A federal grand jury stepped into the situation last Saturday with a report listing the annual racketeering take in Kansas City at more than $34,000,000.

The governor followed up yesterday by asking the Jackson county circuit court to call a grand jury as soon as possible—probably next Monday when a new term of court starts.

Fifth of Rum Not Much For Elephant

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 2—(AP)—When Koko got the colic it took a block and tackle, six bales of hay and a fifth of rum to put her on her feet.

The 50-year-old elephant was lifted by the block and tackle. Each time a little space appeared, hay was shoved under Koko until she was on her feet.

The swig of rum helped revive her, but didn't make her tipsy.

All Offers Lower Than Cost of Property to City

Bids on the sale to the city airport property, located about five miles west of Sedalia, which were opened and read during council proceedings at the city hall Monday night were somewhat lower than anticipated.

The airport property, which cost the city $55,118.39 including 881.66 acres, three buildings and the drilling of a well, is in the process of being sold. Money obtained from the sale will be utilized in paying for the proposed new Sedalia airport east of the city.

The highest bid, out of the eight submitted, totaled $46,783 for the entire tract of land. Jack Funk bid $33,903 for five tracts of land, tract 5, totalling 93.33 acres; tract 3, totalling 260 acres; tract 6, consisting of 85 acres and tract 4 and 2, composed of 215 acres of land. The total $46,783 figure was made up by another bid on tract 1, consisting of 233.33 acres, which was a bid of $12,880.17 submitted by Harold Stephens of Sedalia, route 3.

The Bidders:

The eight bidders are as follows:

W. H. Bond, 404 East Seventeenth street, $4,620 on 83.85 acres, tract 6.

Clarence B. Anderson, 659 East Tenth street, $8,530 on tract 2, 120 acres.

L. J. May, Sedalia, route 3, $8,600 on tract 2, 120 acres.

Henry W. Mason, Madison hotel, Parsons, Kas., $7,201.49 on tract 2, 120 acres.

Harold Stephens, Sedalia, route 3, $12,880.17 on tract 1, 233.33 acres.

Jack Funk, 518 West Broadway, $33,903 on five tracts, 2-3-4-5-6, consisting of 653.33 acres of land.

John C. Ryan, Sedalia, route 5, bid on all tracts of land, 881.66 acres for $37,000.

E. W. Thompson and Everett Burton bid on the entire tract for $39,825.

A committee, composed of Henry R. Harris, Herbert Mason, William Bunn, Will Carl and C. L. Carter met this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Third National bank to analyze the bids preparatory to making a report and recommendation to the council by May 12.

Alger Hiss Is Disbarred

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—Alger Hiss, former high State Department official convicted of perjury, was disbarred today from practicing law in New York state.

The appellate division of the Supreme Court formally struck Hiss' name from the roll of attorneys.

It ruled that his two-count perjury conviction in federal court here constituted commission of felonies and that Hiss therefore ceased to be a qualified attorney.

Hiss was convicted by a federal court jury Jan. 21, 1950, and four days later was sentenced to a term of five years in prison. The case is being appealed.

The former State Department official was found guilty of lying under oath in denying that he ever gave secret government papers to Whittaker Chambers, self-styled courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Committees Named By Mayor Studer

Council Receives Eight Bids For Airport Purchase

The City Council met in regular session Monday night with Mayor Herb E. Studer presiding and all councilmen present as follows: Pete Menefee, Harry Moore, Walter Smethers, Elmer C. Summers, Emory L. Ellsworth, Earl Lashley, Jim Reed and John Vandekamp. Mayor Studer named the following standing committees to serve: Street and Alleys, Moore, Reed, Menefee.

Public Buildings and Grounds, Ellsworth, Moore, Smethers. Fire and Water, Lashley, Sumner, Moore.

Printing and Ordinance, Smethers, Menefee, Lashley. Finance and Taxes, Summers, Vandekamp, Ellsworth. Sewer and Sanitation, Reed, Lashley, Vandekamp.

Open Bids For Airport Sale

Bids on the sale of the airport property, west of Sedalia, were opened. There were eight and they were handed to a committee composed of Henry R. Harris, Herbert Mason, William Bunn, Will Carl, and C. L. Carter to analyze and to make a report and recommendation to the Council by May 12. This committee was named by Mayor Studer and approved unanimously by the Council.

Elmer C. Summers was voted president pro tem of the Council by his fellow aldermen.

On motion of Alderman Ellsworth, third ward, it was voted to install a blinker light at Twelfth street and Arlington avenue.

Simon Kanter was granted a renewal of his license to sell liquor by the drink at Main street and Osage avenue and James H. Jonson to sell 3.2 beer at 616 South Ohio avenue. An application by G. O. Hawley, to sell package liquor at 214 West Fifth street, was placed on file.

John Maragon Is Sentenced

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—John Maragon, a one-time hanger-on around the White House, was sentenced today to serve eight months to two years in jail for lying criminally to senate investigators.

Maragon was convicted last Wednesday on two charges of perjuring himself about his bank accounts and former job.

Federal Judge Jennings Bailey gave him the minimum sentence of eight months to two years on each count. The judge said he could serve the two sentences at the same time.

Maragon's lawyer, Irvin Goldstein, asked for Maragon's release on bail and said the case would be appealed. He said he believes some questions of law are involved and he proposes "to appeal in good faith and not for purposes of delay."

Exceptionally Heavy Voting In Florida and Alabama

By The Associated Press
Exceptionally heavy early voting, especially in Florida and Alabama, was reported today as four states held important primary elections. Florida drew the center of the spotlight because of the bitter, no-holds-barred struggle for the Democratic senatorial nomination between Claude Pepper, the incumbent, and Rep. George Smathers of Miami, a 36-year-old war veteran.

In some Miami precincts, lines of voters a block long waited their turn at the voting machines. Perfect weather aided the turnout.

There were scattered showers in Alabama, but that had no noticeable effect on the voters, who were determined, among other things, the composition of the Democratic state committee. A significant states rights fight unfolded that decision.

In contrast to the situation in the two southern states, not so much interest was apparent in Ohio and Indiana, also holding primaries. The voters turn out in Indiana was spotty.

Significant returns from the Florida election were expected to begin about 7 p. m. (CST)

Missourians Will Receive Journalism Honor Awards

James Todd, president and publisher of the Moberly Monitor-Index, for years has been prominent in state and regional press association circles.

Elzey Roberts, publisher of the St. Louis Star-Times, has been on the one newspaper since his graduation from Princeton university in June, 1915.

Important Events In World News

PHILADELPHIA, May 2—

(AP)—Powerful rocket installations aimed at Alaska, Norway and Sweden have been built by Russia in the Arctic and Baltic areas, says a 33-year-old escapee from a Soviet concentration camp.

Victor Martinuk, a Russian naval engineer, disclosed the secret operations yesterday through his attorney, Ivan M. Czup.

Martinuk now is in Montgomery county jail, Norristown, Pa., awaiting House action on a bill to provide him with "lawful residence" in this country, the lawyer said.

LONDON, May 2—(AP)—The labor government last night won a House of Commons ballot on a minor issue by a single vote, beating back a surprise Conservative attack mainly to shake Lamont's prestige.

The parliamentary observer said an adverse vote on such an issue — a Conservative proposal for a one thousand pound ($2,800) appropriation cut — probably would not have forced the government to resign.

The House, sitting as a committee of the whole, cast a tie vote of 278-278 over the Conservative proposal to reduce the salaries of transport minister Alfred Barnes and his assistants. The Laborite committee chairman, James Milner, broke the tie with a vote in the government's favor.

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Britain shipped $17,731,128 in gold to this country in the first week of April, the census bureau reported today. British gold shipments here in March had totaled only $9,405.

The bureau said foreign-owned gold in the federal reserve banks of this country increased $7,796,318 during the week to a $4,520,139,549 total.

TEHRAN, Iran, May 2—(AP)—A general strike by 4,000 students today closed Iran's only institution of higher learning.

Seeking increased facilities for work as internes, 1,500 medical students at Tehran university struck two weeks ago. The university's remaining 2,500 students walked out in sympathy today.

The students paraded thru the city and camped outside the parliament building.

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley today asked Congress to keep the draft law alive because, as far as he can see, "there has been no letup in the aggressive extension of Communism toward its goal of world domination."

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff was the first witness as the House armed services reopened hearings on proposals to extend the draft. It is due to expire June 24.

Speaking of recent events such as the Baltic plane incident, Bradley said the situation "frankly gives us little cause for comfort and little excuse for delay."

"Certainly it does not support discontinuing the selection-service act"

Governor Names Period For Bond Drive

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith today designated May 15 to July 4 as the period for a Savings Bond Indebtedness drive.

To help the campaign for U. S. savings bonds, the governor urged that flags be flown on May 15 and bells be rung at noon that day.

Medals to Two Newsmen of Missouri

Recognition For Outstanding Work In Journalism

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 2—(AP)—Medals of honor for distinguished service to journalism will be awarded to the St. Louis Star-Times, the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant of the Netherlands and to four individuals by the University of Missouri as a part of the Journalism week program Friday, Dean Frank L. Mott announced today.

Individual winners of the honor medals will include James Todd, publisher of the Moberly (Mo.) Monitor-Index; Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, executive vice-president of the Houston (Tex.) Post and wartime head of the WACS; and Joe Alex Morris, journalism school graduate here and a contributor to the Saturday Evening Post.

Presentation Journalism Week
Presentation of the awards will take place Friday afternoon preceding the annual Journalism week banquet.

The Missouri medals are awarded on the basis of outstanding journalistic endeavors over a long period of time rather than for specific instances.

The Star-Times award was made on the basis of editorial incisiveness, independence, and thoughtfulness; its alert news service, intelligently designed to serve the people of its city and region; and its outstanding record of enterprise in the production of a modern newspaper, Dean Mott said.

The award to Todd, he said, was in recognition of his lifetime devotion to the production of an outstanding small-city newspaper, his long service to the Missouri Press Association and other newspaper organizations, and that kindly and helpful influence in his own community, state, and nation which has made him a good citizen and a beloved member of the editorial brotherhood.

Wet Weather Over Country

By the Associated Press

There was a lot of wet weather across the country today but some nearly normal spring temperatures appeared in prospect for much of the chilled Midwest.

Rain pelted areas from Southern Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and into Texas and Eastern Oklahoma. The heaviest falls were in Texas, with a fall of 1.38 inches in six hours last night at Fort Worth. Dallas reported a fall of 1.1 inches in one hour. Streams from Lufkin to Lubbock rose to danger points. There also were some showers in the Gulf states.

Rain mixed with snow fell over the Dakotas, Central Minnesota, Idaho, Northern Utah and Western Wyoming. There was rain along the Pacific coast from Northern California northward.

Warmer weather spread over the Plains states and was moving eastward. However, early morning readings in the Midwest, as well as in the northern Rockies and the northeastern part of the country were below normal. Coolest point was Cadillac, Mich., with a mark of 23. At the same time, San Antonio reported 71.

Paul Laven, Bob Hope's Gag Writer, Dies Suddenly

LOS ANGELES, May 2—(AP)—Paul Laven, 43, collapsed and died yesterday while composing gags for a Bob Hope screen script. An autopsy will be performed.

Laven came here seven years ago from Cleveland. He was a newspaper reporter.

CITY COUNCIL Sidelights

'Twas mighty peaceful (on the surface) at city council meeting Monday night. The session lasted 2,400 seconds. Minutes were read and approved, committees named and approved, motions made and approved.

Present was a fair sprinkling of taxpayers, who when called upon by the mayor, had nothing to say. Most of them came to hear the mayor recommend some appointments—such as a city counselor.

But the matter of appointments by the mayor or by the council was not mentioned. So the present Democratic job holders stay on.

The session was so peaceful and short; but for three reporters it was one of those kind of meetings they dream about covering.

—O—

Ah, but under the surface? Take for instance that committee named by Mayor Studer to study and make recommendation concerning the airport bids. In previous caucus sessions Building and Grounds Chairman Ellsworth had proposed certain names for this committee which was his privilege; then the mayor suggested additions, all of which seemed to meet with approval.

But in open council session, the Republican mayor in a prepared statement of recommendation changed the lineup. Not a Democratic councilman expressed amazement or asked for an explanation. All voted "yes" to approve the mayor's recommendation.

Procedure previously considered was that the airport bids, after being read, would be turned over to the committee, some of whom were present at the meeting to accept assignment. The council then would have recessed so the bids could be studied and a report made the same night upon re-assembling of the councilmen.

But the mayor's recommendation changed that, too. He didn't want any too hasty action on the bids, being of the opinion the committee should have until May 12 to study them before making a report to a caucus session.

—O—
So it appears, as was predicted, the Republican mayor can put a rabbit out of his hat, and this looks like the first one, much to the consternation of the majority Democrats.

—O—
Insofar as the Mayor's technique is concerned the public can find no fault with his recommendations concerning handling of the airport bids. But politically it looks like the mayor pitched strikeouts the first inning.

The Democratic councilmen will have to devote more time to battling practice if they expect to connect with the mayor's curves.

Expect Debt To be Doubled

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—The government spent $2,588,186,000 more than it took in during the first 10 months of the current fiscal year, the Treasury reported today.

That deficit is expected to be doubled by the year's end, June 30. The Treasury report showed that at the start of this month, the government was three times as deep in the hole as it was at the same point in the preceding year. That year eventually wound up in a deficit of $1,811,000,000.

Revised administration estimates count on this year's deficit, jumping to $5,400,000,000 by June 30 and being followed by a $5,200,000,000 red ink entry for the succeeding 12 months.

The estimates anticipate, therefore, that spending will top revenues by more than $2,800,000,000 during May and June.

Sabotage Ammunition Dump In New Delhi: 31 Killed

NEW DELHI, India, May 2—(AP)—An ammunition dump exploded yesterday in a crowded section of Patiala, Northwest India, killing 31 persons and injuring more than a score.

An official statement said Sabotage was not suspected in the explosion, which smashed a wall at the Patiala Fort.

E. W. Goetz Shows Colored Picture at Optimist Club

The Optimist club meeting was held today noon at the Bothwell hotel with G. Pat Darnell, president, presiding.

The president called attention to the Optimist club 10th District Convention which will be held at school at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday, Fremont, Neb., on May 6, 7 and 8, and stated that a special train will leave Kansas City at 9:00 o'clock Friday morning, May 5, for Fremont, and will return to Kansas City at 9:30 o'clock Sunday night. Regular passenger rates will prevail. Those planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Darnell and Mrs. John R. Van Dyne. Mr. Darnell urged that all other Optimists who could make the trip, do so.

More Than 1,000 Line Up Early Seeking Jobs

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—Shortly after dawn, there were more than 1,000 men in the line.

By mid-morning, the number had jumped to 2,500. And the men still had two hours more to wait.

They were waiting to obtain applications to seek jobs as cleaners in New York City departments.

The long queue, beginning at the front of park department offices on 59th street, stretched nearly three blocks. There are only 110 cleaning jobs open. They pay from $1,920 to $2,040 a year. It costs the men $1 each for an application blank, which officials start handing out at noon.

Five Missouri University Students Hurt

Car Crashed Into Bridge Abutment Near Odessa

ODESSA, Mo., May 2—(AP)—Five University of Missouri students were injured, three of them seriously, when their motor car crashed into a bridge abutment near here early today.

The three seriously injured are Robert Wehling, 18, of St. Louis, driver of the car; Wayne Morrison, 22, Scottsbluff, Neb., and Robert Eugene Campbell, 21, of Clinton, Mo. Harry Mayfield, 19, St. Louis, and Thomas Walsh, 17, Kansas City, were injured slightly.

State Highway Trooper Dick Gehrig of Lexington, Mo., said he learned from Mayfield that the five were on their way back to Columbia after an evening in Kansas City as part of the annual sneak night of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The five were pledges of the fraternity.

Struck Bridge
Sgt. Gehrig said the car, a 1949 Chevrolet sedan, left the highway about 90 feet in front of the bridge and when it struck the bridge abutment it bounced across the road into the opposite ditch and reversed its direction. The right side of the car was ripped from the frame. Gehrig said the motor and dash board were driven back into the front seat.

Two of the students, Wehling and Morrison were knocked unconscious and Campbell, was semi-conscious when Gehrig arrived. The State Trooper said the only one able to give a coherent story was Mayfield.

Occurred Early Today
Mayfield, he said, told him that the five had left Columbia about 8 p. m. last night for Kansas City where Walsh showed them around. The accident occurred between 5 a. m. and 6 a. m. three and one half miles west of Odessa on U. S. highway 40.

All five were taken to Research hospital in Kansas City. Attendances there said Morrison suffered a broken pelvis and a broken nose; Wehling a broken thigh bone; Walsh lacerations on one leg and Mayfield minor abrasions.

Bank Held Up

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 2—(AP)—Two gunmen held up the Lafayette street branch of the Third National Bank here today and escaped with between $20,000 and $30,000.

T. E. Doss, manager of the bank, said the holdup men entered while only two employees and one customer were present.

One man stood at the entrance and the other walked up to the cage in which teller Roberts Paschall, 24, was working.

Gondoliers on Strike

VENICE, Italy, May 2—(AP)—Gondoliers in this famed city of canals staged a one-day protest strike today. Their complaint: motorboats are providing too much competition and they make the canals too rough for gondolas.

Lattimore Denies Charges

Denounces as 'Hogwash' Budenz' Testimony Aligning Him With Reds

WASHINGTON, May 2—(AP)—Owen Lattimore denounced as "hogwash" today Louis Budenz's testimony connecting him with the Communist party and called it "the produce of a twisted and malignant personality."

He said no "honest man" could believe Budenz.

Under oath before a Senate committee, Lattimore swore again that he is not a Communist, nor a Soviet spy, and said such accusations against him "are not supported by a shred of evidence perjured or otherwise."

Lattimore asked that the Senate group "render its verdict" in terms that would tell Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) he "has been caught out in his fraud and deceit" for making the charges against Lattimore.

He said McCarthy should be advised, too, that "he should henceforth confine himself to other—and less important—activities than those of a destructive critic of the State Department and a despoiler of character of good American citizens."

Investigating Charge
The Senate foreign relations subcommittee is investigating McCarthy's charges that the State Department is infested by Communists.

Making these charges in a Senate speech, McCarthy named Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins university professor and occasional consultant to the State Department, as a Communist.

Hal Boyle COLUMN

The poor man's philosopher on the death of trees.

By Hal Boyle

VALSETZ, Ore.—(P)—It is a sad and stirring sight to see a great tree die.

It gives you a lonely feeling as if you were watching God or your father or something else you revered go down in solitary protest.

On a high hill here in the costal mountain range I watched two sky reaching Douglas firs sawed down within a half hour, and it was like seeing the death of old heroes.

Each had stood for a century or so before the white man came to blight these eternally rain-wet mountains with his wish for wood, his desire for shelter.

Trees Like People

These tremendous fir trees (and they are tremendous) are strangely like American people. They are great advocates of free enterprise, they reach for the life giving security of the sun.

They will fight like unholy devils for sunshine, which to them is wealth and prosperity. They will grow like mad to get it. But if they lose it they sicken and give up. They simply won't live in another tree's shade as the hyena hemlock is glad to do.

But the ones that win out in this competitive grasp for solar prosperity, the ones that crowd out the weaker trees, are more beautiful than fair women, more towering than strong men.

Some have grown for 400 years or more and shoot 250 to 300 feet into the air in green needed splendor, proof that standing still can be as heightening sometimes as travel is supposed to be broadening.

Trees Cut Down

Well, there they stood, the two trees I am talking about, two trees wet at the foot and dry at the top, two trees in a virgin forest, and both as old as Shakespeare, but both still living. And three men came and assaulted them as I watched, a guest in the lumber camp. The men who cut down the two trees were paid $25 to $30 a day to do so. They wore metal helmets like nature was at war with them, as it was.

Two men carrying a portable power saw approached the trees and made incisions as precise as a surgeon performing an appendectomy. Then the third man came to get down to the decisive muscle, the thing man always has to return to.

He took an ax and made a deep niche in the saw scar behind the way they wanted the tree to fall, that is, he was the west wind if they wanted the tree to fall east. He put a wedge in the west wound, and by sledge blows he drove it in with the forces of pointed steel and flexing flesh.

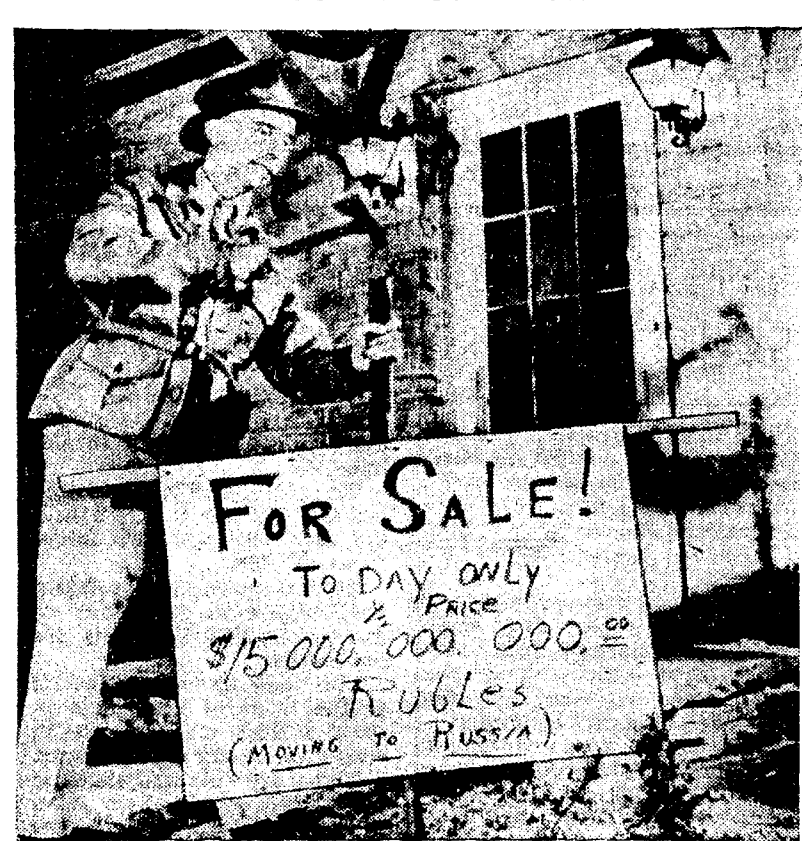

Sudden Crack, Then the Fall

This tiny 6-foot figure at the base told the great tree the direction in which it must die.

There was a sudden crack, a shudder clear through the tall stem, and then it began to fall. It went down with a whispering surprise, a shower of broken greenery, and came to earth with a great and final groan. It shook any listening heart. Loggers ran for shelter. The flying branches thrown off by a falling tree are known to them as "widow makers." They can telescope a skull.

An odd thing about these men who make their living out of killing trees—their defense is that one slain Douglas fir can make a six-room house—is the feeling they have for what they destroy.

Reds Take Over U. S. Town

Frederick Rau, of Mosinee, Wis., places a sign in front of his home announcing sale in Russian rubles as the town gets into the spirit of being Communist-dominated for a day. The American Legion is sponsoring the idea to show citizens what they would be in for should the Reds ever take over Mosinee.

They get a kind of forest guilt complex.

"I guess nothing in the world that has lived so long is killed so quick," a lumber camp superintendent said. He knew that with all his weapons for survival he wouldn't live as long as the thing his men cut down.

But there is one difference between the death of men and trees. A big tree dies with more dignity, sighing in a forest, than men do gasping in a hospital.

Program at Van Natta School

Van Natta school observed the last day of school Friday April 21st with the teacher and pupils enjoying a wiener roast at the noon hour.

In the evening commencement exercises were held. This being the thirty-eighth such celebration to be held at Van Natta school.

The stage was decorated as a spring scene in keeping with the class colors, pink and green. The three graduates, Carole Brandenburg, Ann Harding, Rose Brandenburg, all dressed in green and white organdy, and wearing corsages of pink roses, were seated in front of the stage.

The program was opened with a prayer by Virginia Landis after which the following program was given: piano solo "Dance of the Midgets", by Bonnie Gorrell; welcome, Rose Brandenburg; piano solo, "Hanging Gardens", by Langdon Starke; Class Will, Ann Harding; recitation, "My Sister's Graduation", Rosalie Alexander; address by Rev. J. G. W. Kirschner, who was introduced by Wayne Starke; piano solo, "Toy Soldiers on Parade", by Kay Brandenburg;

Grade School Pupils Make Tour of City

Twenty-seven Bothwell grade school pupils recently toured places of interest in Sedalia. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harry Runge, Mrs. Jack Roder, Mrs. W. W. Rader, Mrs. Raus Sprinkles, Mrs. E. E. Rehmer, Mrs. Charles Mawhorter and the teacher, Mrs. Melvin Dexheimer.

The Sedalia Democrat company was the first place visited. Here they saw the print operators in action, the lead plates being made and the presses, and in addition to the mechanical end of the newspaper business, they saw how the news was gathered.

The Beatrice Foods company was the next place the group toured, where they saw package ice-cream being made, smoozies and cottage cheese. They were all treated to a smoozie when leaving the plant.

Toured Telephone Company
Next they toured the telephone company, where they saw calls being answered by local and long distant operators. Mechanical technicalities were explained and the children saw the mass of incoming wires, necessary to carry on the phone system.

From the telephone office, they went to the Old Missouri Homestead where Mrs. Okee Rice took the group through her beautiful place of business and explained little items of interest about the scenery and lighting.

At the noon hour, the group went to the Liberty Park, where they enjoyed a basket dinner in the shelter house.

After lunch, the group visited Taystee Baking company, where they saw apparatus used in mixing and making the dough for the bread, the ovens and wrappers.

The Town and Country was last on the group's itinerary, where the children saw the step by step process of manufacturing shoes.

At 3:00 p. m. the group went home tired and happy from a wonderful day of seeing places of business in Sedalia.

Dresden School Closing Day

The closing day of the Dresden school, of which Miss Lula Wheeler is teacher, was held Friday, April 21.

The morning was spent playing ball, other outdoor games and taking pictures.

At the noon hour a dinner, to which all contributed, was served and during the afternoon the following program was presented by Miss Wheeler and her pupils.

"Welcome" by Sandra Ellen Whitfield; songs, "Vacation is Coming" and "Happy Time is Here" by the school; recitation, "Vacation is Here," Davy Woodward; piano solo, "The Postman," by Carole Whitfield; trio, "Summer Days," Kay Whitfield, Esther Shepherd, Virginia Shepherd; play, "What We Will Do," Garnett Van Natta, Lloyd Dean Shepherd, Carole Whitfield and Sandra Whitfield; piano solo, "May Day," Elaine Van Natta; play, "The Frosted Cake" by A and B class of 12 pupils; trio, "Twili Bird," Virginia and Esther Shepherd and Kay Whitfield.

Presented Gifts
Presentation of gifts for perfect attendance were made to Sandra Whitfield, Carole Whitfield, Kay Whitfield, Elaine Van Natta and Wayne Van Natta.

Reading circle certificates were awarded to Sandra Whitfield, Carole Whitfield from the second grade; Elaine Van Natta, fifth grade; Virginia Shepherd, sixth grade; Esther Shepherd, eighth grade; Robert James Cook, eighth grade.

The closing song was "Blest Be the Tie."

The pupils and teacher, Miss Dora Benz, from Walnut Grove school; Mrs. J. D. Green and pupils from Jackson school were present during the afternoon and enjoyed the program as well as the parents and neighbors of Dresden.

Cardinals Win Eviction Suit

ST. LOUIS, May 2—(AP)—The Cardinals are the victors in the suit brought by the Browns to evict them from Sportsman's park here, where both clubs play their home games.

Umpire in the case was Circuit Judge Robert L. Aronson.

He ruled yesterday that the Browns, who own the park, can't oust the wealthier Cardinals until their lease expires in 1961.

The Browns based their case on a claim the lease was forfeited in the 1947 sale of the Cardinals to Fred Saigh, present owner and president, and the late Robert E. Hannegan.

Judge Aronson called this "fine spun reasoning" that doesn't hold water. He ruled the Browns are not entitled to the $222,500 in damages they had asked.

Saigh was elated. He announced the Cardinals will go ahead with plans for a new stadium "for the convenience and comfort of our fans."

Under terms of the lease, the Cardinals pay an annual rental of $35,000. The club estimated its total cost for using the park, including its share of expenses, runs about $100,000 annually.

Utah Oil Production Stepped Up

SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—The new crude oil production industry in Utah reported production of 640,000 barrels in 1949.

Forty-nine wells were completed compared with 18 in 1948. In last year's drilling, 25 wells produced some oil, one brought in gas and 23 were abandoned as dry holes.

Production in 1948 was listed at 15,000 barrels.

Truman Refuses Compromise On Rent Control

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—President Truman promised a group of mayors the other day to heckle Congress until rent controls are extended, but he refused to make it a "last appeal." He said that rent controls might even be needed for another year, despite the fact that some of the big-city mayors who came to him for help were willing to compromise.

Mayor William Devin of Seattle, Wash., suggested: "Mr. President, we think it would help if you could come out and say this extension will be the last one."

"I can't say this is the end," replied the President. "The end of rent controls depends on economic conditions a year from now."

"You can't set a definite date," agreed Mayor Thomas Nichols of Canton, Ohio, who warned that removal of rent controls would cause "serious repercussions."

"It would be too much of a shock to go off controls right away," observed Los Angeles Mayor Fletcher Bowron. "We should decontrol by degrees, starting with the high rent brackets."

In greeting the delegation, Truman declared: "I am certainly very happy to see the mayors come here on this very knotty problem. There is no uncertainty in my mind on the need for extension of rent controls. I have told the Congress—and I intend to keep telling them—we need rent controls extended."

Boston was represented by C. T. Kiley, chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, who said he had been instructed by the mayor to declare his "unqualified support for federal rent controls."

"We need continuation of rent controls in our community," broke in Mayor Lester E. Holloway of Muncie, Indiana. "We are highly industrialized. Too many rents would be hiked if controls are removed."

A small-town mayor, Russell S. Wallace of Aberdeen, South Dakota, also spoke up. "We are a small city," he said. "But there are many small cities in the United States where rent control is still needed."

Among the other mayors who spoke strongly for continued controls were Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore, John J. O'Toole of St. Louis, Tom Mooney of Lexington, Ky., and Edward K. Delaney of St. Paul.

Veep's Humor

In his mellow Kentucky drawl, the Veep told about the Methodist preacher down Paducah way who was giving a sermon out of doors on a lovely spring Sunday. A bee kept buzzing around him, and at the height of the eloquence, disappeared up a pant leg.

The preacher beamed on his attentive audience, placed his hand on his chest, and said, "Brothers, I have love and kindness in my heart."

At that moment the bee stung. The parson swatted his knee and added: "But, brothers, I've got hell fire in my britches!"

Inside Spain

An intent, wavy-haired figure sat in the exclusive Senators' gallery like the master of a puppet show during the debate on economic aid to Franco Spain.

He was Charles Patrick Clark, Franco's American lobbyist, who with elderly and querulous Senator Pat McCarran, has been beating the drums for a loan to Spain.

In the end, Marshall plan aid to Franco was defeated. And here are some of the arguments, taken from U.S. intelligence files and known to many Senators, which influenced the vote.

1. Dictator Francisco Franco is hanging on by the skin of his teeth, largely through claims that he will get an American loan. Last summer, 15 top Spanish generals had a showdown with Franco. All but two pointedly said they could no longer support him.

Franco begged for time to prove the United States was backing him. In August, American fleet units under Admiral Connolly steamed into Spanish ports and Franco won his reprieve. But the latest inside dope is that unless he can wangle a loan this year, the Spanish military definitely will ditch him for a return of the king.

Franco and Vatican

2. Meanwhile, Jose Aguirre, leader of the militant Basque Catholic resistance, has been conducting a stirring campaign in the United States and Western Europe. He was in Washington, as well as New York, and Latin America, organizing support among Catholic leaders. Aguirre, president of the short-lived Basque republic, told Washington officials he had the complete backing of two great Catholic prime ministers—Georges Bidault of France and Alcide de Gasperi of Italy. This, of course, is a matter of record.

Actually, relations between Franco and the Vatican are reported far from good. There is no concordat between Spain and the Vatican. Franco has, in fact, offended the Vatican by insisting that he name Spanish bishops.

3. Under the Franco regime, corruption has reached a new high. The story is told of cement manufacturers forced to sell thousands of tons of the scarce product at low cost to the army. The cement was allegedly for fortifications behind the Pyrenees, but it was not used for this purpose. Instead, most was sold on the black market for more than double the manufacturers' price.

Businessmen are required to pay tribute to Franco's Falange party through "social security allowances" for workers. Sixty-four per cent of the funds go for overhead and "political hierarchy of the syndicates."

4. Thanks to widespread poverty increased by a devastating drought and Franco's police crackdown on any Democratic movements, Communists are successfully infiltrating into the Falange. A Catalan Communist report last November bragged, "the work within the syndicate is giving good results. We must carry further this advantageous experience of combining the legal possibilities with the clandestine fight."

There were Communist demonstrations and cries of "down with capitalism!" in Madrid on November 29 and 30.

U. S. Security Policy, Attacked By Press, Poses Problems

By Bruce Bionasi

A magazine editor addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors contends the Atomic Energy Commission is pursuing a policy of secrecy that amounts to censorship of the press and is retarding vital scientific progress.

Almost at the same time a Washington diplomatic correspondent calls attention to the conflict between government officials and reporters over what information about foreign affairs should properly be made public.

Examine first the government's view of the problem. In atomic energy or anywhere else that touches military defense, it is legitimately concerned over security.

In foreign relations, the belief is that our officials must have the right of private discussion and negotiation both among themselves and with other governments; public knowledge of the deliberations can handicap them seriously.

There is also an attitude in the State Department and other quarters that the press is too frequently irresponsible with secret information, that it is more interested in being first in print with any story than in being right and wisely cautious with the real story.

From the reporter's side the notion is growing that government is exaggerating its need for privacy. He sees these dangers in the trend:

An agency of government which is walled off from the public gaze and from possible controversy does not have the necessary guidance of public opinion. It moves ahead in isolation, badly out of contact with the people it is serving.

Many questions which are actually issues of basic public policy are being decided by officials in the secret stage of negotiations, with Congress and the public compelled either to accept an accomplished fact or to repudiate the executive branch on the basis of inadequate information.

Such issues definitely belong in the public arena. Any officials who try to keep them out of it are depriving the people of their rightful role in a democracy. The time to discuss a fundamental shift in national policy is before—not after—it is made.

The security problem is admittedly delicate in an age when military and scientific progress so often are closely intertwined. There's no doubt science is suffering from the limitations of secrecy; the free interchange of ideas is interrupted.

To some extent, of course, this can't be helped. But our key defense men probably have been too gingerly in their handling of such information. A more liberal attitude toward its release to the public wouldn't likely damage our cause greatly. Some men in Congress and the government itself agree with the press on this.

One thing the press can do on its own. It can show a more grown-up approach to the getting of today's most vital news. The issues are too important to be made the subject of school-boyish competition among reporters to see who'll be first. That's all right for fires and trials, but it doesn't fit a time when world conflagrations can grow from the spreading of inaccurate and incomplete information.

Mute, But Damning, Testimony

From the moment the Russians announced they had fired upon an American plane "over Latvia" there was little doubt in U. S. minds that the craft had been callously shot down. Our official note to the Soviet Union so charged.

We could not have foreseen, however, that so much circumstantial evidence would be collected in support of that charge. Altogether, the Baltic has yielded up two rubber lift rafts, a small boat, a wooden block, a metal can of rescue flares and now a 375-pound airplane wheel assembly.

The link with the missing plane seems strong. One of the rafts and the wheel assembly bore holes which suggest that the plane had been riddled with bullets. The raft also was blackened, apparently by fire. The wheel assembly was picked up by a Swedish fishing trawler about 30 miles off the Latvian coast.

A Swedish expert estimates from knowledge of normal drift in that sector that the plane probably went down about 63 miles from Latvia. Though all this evidence simply tends to confirm the probable fate of the plane, we must all be grateful to the alert seamen and fishermen in the Baltic who have helped to prove our case in the eyes of the world.

Eph. 1:17—23; Phil. 4:8—9

A PROBLEM-CENTERED GAZE IS UNHEALTHY

Just a word before we leave the point of looking at yourself even in God. Whatever gets your attention gets you, and you must not be the center of attention even when you are in God. Our faith is God-centered, not you-centered. So look away from your sins and diseases; look away from yourself—look away to God.

Look away from your sins and diseases. If your gaze is on sin and disease—is sin-centered and disease-centered—you'll never get well. I asked some people in a sanitarium to sew and knit for China, that "continent of pain." As they had countless hours upon their hands, I thought they would crowd the lady whom I designated to take their names. Not a person gave a name. Then I saw what had happened: these people weren't self-centered because they were sick; they were sick because they turned their attention from themselves to God and others.

In airplanes in France there is a cup in front of each passenger with a sign, "For airsickness." In English planes the notice reads, "In case you feel indisposed, the steward will help you." In the English planes scarcely anyone gets sick, but in the French planes almost everyone does! Passengers look at the word "sickness" and the cup—enough! But when they read the sign in the English planes they think of a "steward," the attention is called off from self; the sickness is pushed to the margin. In an airplane in America we were riding a gale of 80 miles an hour, and over mountains—the air was churned up terribly. A lady opposite me reading a book on "Health" yelled when the plane seemingly dropped out from under us, and she forthwith got sick. But I pictured myself as riding a bucking bronco, felt the exhilaration of the experience, and rode the bronco and the storm unscathed. A prominent minister preached 10 consecutive Sundays on "How to avoid a nervous breakdown," and ended up with one. His psychology was bad—it was centered on a breakdown. It should have been centered on the Resources.

My Father, God, I see where I should be centered—Thou art my center and my circumference. In Thee I am safe and steady and growing. In sickness and sin and myself I wither. For I am fashioned in my inmost being for Thee—Thou Homeland of my soul. I thank Thee. Amen.

Try 'Dressing Up' at Home And Watch Hubby's Reaction

A man writes: "Ten years ago when I married my wife she was a beautiful girl. She's still a good-looking woman, when she takes the trouble to be.

"But she never takes the trouble to fix herself up unless we are going out or having friends in. She wears the worst-looking old clothes around home, even though she has plenty of attractive clothes hanging in the closet. If friends drop in unexpectedly she always has to apologize for how she looks. It never occurs to her, I'm sure, that she might take the trouble to look neat and pretty just for me."

That's a mistake many wives make. They plan their wardrobes and buy their clothes with only one idea in mind, to look well-dressed when they are going somewhere.

They figure what they wear around the house doesn't matter. Any old thing will do to wear at the breakfast table in the morning, or at dinner in the evening.

The husbands of such women actually see them at their best only once in a while. The picture of their wives that they carry around in their minds is how they look day in and day out—when the wives are thinking it doesn't matter how they look.

Can Be Both Dressy And Practical

A wise wife, even though her clothes budget is limited, doesn't overlook the fact that stay-at-home clothes are an important part of her wardrobe.

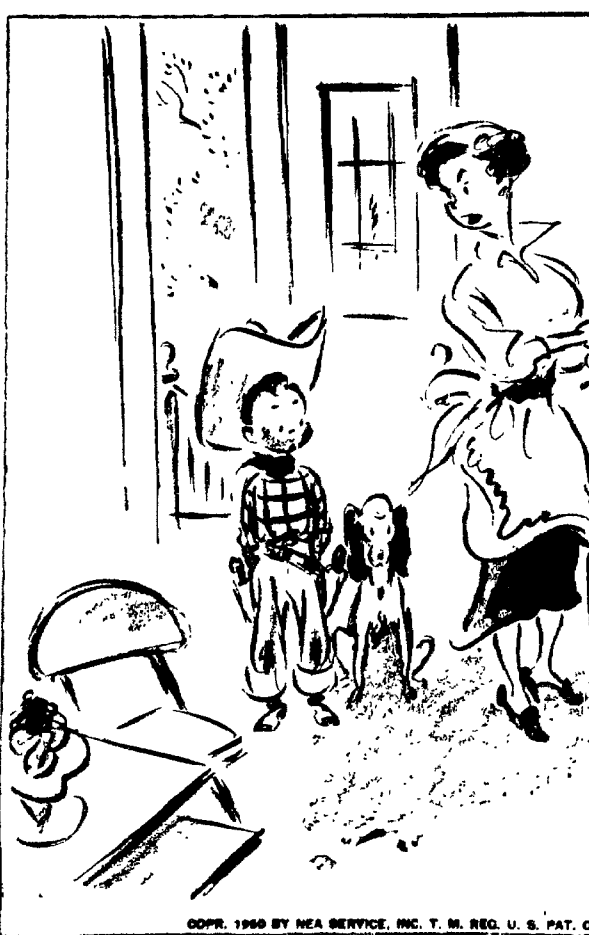

They can be quite practical and yet still be bright, feminine and becoming. And they can be worn with an air.

If you haven't been paying much attention to how you look around home, try this experiment. Start paying as much attention to your appearance as you would if you had guests in your home. Dress for those imaginary guests. And then see if your husband doesn't surprise you by paying you an unexpected compliment at the breakfast table or by taking a quick second look at you when he bestows his home-coming kiss in the evening.

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Falling in love had not been Clemency Norton's idea when she became nursery governess to Baba, small daughter of Syria and Jon Amberley. But soon Clemency realizes she has lost her heart completely to Piers Amberley, Jon's brother, at whose luxurious North African home the family lives. Syria, despising her weak husband and in love with Piers herself, is bitterly sarcastic when she hears the news. And although her lips are smiling, Clemency recognizes open hatred in her eyes. And Clemency has the uncomfortable memory of Jon watching his wife with an almost frightening grin of narcissistic amusement.

XXV

Clemency and Piers dined alone that night after all. Syria was still nursing a headache, and Piers dismissed with a shrug the fact that he did not know where Jon was.

There was only one crumpled rose leaf. Once or twice Clemency caught her beloved in a thoughtful mood, and with her natural intuition sharpened by her love, was sure that there was still some shadow of his old unhappiness hanging about. It must be Jon—but still he avoided that subject of his brother.

The day ended with an episode which upset Clemency. When she finally went upstairs she passed as usual through the night nursery to her room.

She had accepted it as a matter of fact that Loulie would have gone to bed. Baba nearly always woke at 9 o'clock for a drink and went promptly to sleep again, when she could be depended upon not to stir until the morning; but she had a habit of throwing off the bedclothes.

A small night lamp burned in the room, and as she crossed the floor by its light Clemency was suddenly aware that the room was actually cold.

The long window that opened onto the balcony beyond was usually tight covered by a slatted shutter; tonight it was wide open and the cold air blowing directly from the desert was also blowing straight in on Baba's bed where she lay sound asleep, every stitch of the covers thrown off her.

With an exclamation of dismay Clemency hurried across to Baba's bed. As she drew the covering over the sleeping child, Baba woke and sat up shivering.

Then she began to whimper: "Cold, Clemency."

Clemency shut the window, her lips setting angrily. She went back to Baba again, and taking her in her arms, a blanket wrapped about her, held her against her own warm body, chafing the little feet in her hand.

How could such a thing have happened? Clemency wondered if she ought to get a hot water bottle—though she doubted if there were one to be had. Then as Baba warmed up she decided against it.

When finally the child was back in bed sound asleep again but coughing a little, Clemency went to her room, determined that tomorrow Loulie was going to get into trouble.

The moment she woke to find the Arab girl putting down her morning tea tray, she remembered, but before she could say anything Loulie told her:

"Miss Baba has a little cold, I am afraid," and added: "Shall I not bathe her?"

"Of course she has a cold!" Clemency sat up, looking at her assistant accusingly. "What were you thinking of, Loulie, to leave the nursery window open last night? Why did you open it?" Loulie stared back, her sallow-dark eyes wide with amazement. "I did not," she exclaimed. "I did not go near the window."

"But I found it wide open, Loulie," protested Clemency. "Baba could not have opened it, you know."

"Of course not," agreed Loulie readily, her pretty face distressed. "But—it was shut when I left the room. The Sidi Jon sent me away after Baba had had her drink."

"The Sidi Jon?" asked Clemency. "You left him with Baba?" "Yes, he said he would sit with her in case she woke again. I said she would not, but he was quite angry—he told me to go away. That he could be alone with his own child sometimes if he wished to. I had to obey."

"I see, Loulie," she said. "I should have known you would not be so careless."

"Thank you, Sitt. Shall I keep the little flower in bed?"

"No. But just sponge her face and hands. I will come and take her temperature," said Clemency.

Drinking her tea hurriedly, she thought with angry contempt: I suppose he was drinking again. Thank goodness I came up when I did.

Syria looked into the nursery to inquire coldly what was going to happen to her daughter that day—obviously implying that she could not expect much attention from her governess.

"I am keeping her in," replied Clemency. "She seems to have caught cold. In any case I should have stayed with her, but Piers went out early—before we were up. He has some business on the oasis of El Hassari."

SYRIA gave her a curious look. "That's 50 miles away. I suppose he's gone to see Robin Cherrington and won't be back till late."

"Perhaps not until after dinner," agreed Clemency serenely. How stupid it seemed that Syria should so resent her engagement. She hesitated, then: "I shall look after Baba in exactly the same way until you find someone to take my place."

"We'll be packing up soon," Syria gave a half-shrug. "It hardly seems worth while importing anyone. Loulie can cope, no doubt, and I'll soon get someone when we get back."

And what will happen to the poor infant meanwhile, thought Clemency in dismay.

The Doctor Says— Ability to Shrug Off Worries Often Helps to Cure Insomnia

By EWDIN P. JORJAN, M. D.

People who live in cities and follow sedentary occupations are the ones most likely to complain of sleeping badly. Most insomnia is caused by inability to throw off worries and cares of the day time. The person who starts thinking of the office within a few minutes of turning off the light at night is likely to develop chronic sleeplessness. The longer this goes on the worse it gets.

Many people who complain of insomnia sleep better than they think they do. They may be wakeful for short periods two or three times during the night, but really get all the sleep they need. Often they make things worse by worrying about not sleeping. This is unnecessary, as most people can get nearly as much rest for the bodily functions by lying quietly and relaxing in bed as they would if they were actually asleep.

With worry as the principal cause of insomnia, management is apparent. Before going to bed some occupation which takes the person's attention away from the usual worries is desirable. This may take the form of reading some book to one's self, or aloud, preferably one which is rather dull. Other people may relax better if they do hard work of some kind.

The choice of pre-bedtime occupation should be made individually on the basis of personal likes and complete removal from the mental activity which is the major

course of worry. Sometimes warm milk just before going to bed is relaxing. Most people can help by training themselves to relax their muscles.

Unfortunately a great number of people who complain of sleeplessness try various drugs. This tendency to use drugs as an aid in getting to sleep is unwise. The sleep-producing drugs have their place, but most of them are habit forming if taken over long periods and after a while they do not even produce the sleep which is desired. Drugs are a poor substitute for healthy living.

Most people living in cities have at one time or another suffered from a certain amount of difficulty in sleeping. The fact that this difficulty is not present constantly with most of us shows that ordinary insomnia is not dangerous. It causes a lot of annoyance and interferes with a feeling of well-being and efficiency but no one ever dies merely by missing a few hours sleep.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week.

Graduation Activities at High Point

High Point school had several graduation activities in April which all four graduates and their teacher enjoyed. Those who graduated were: Bennie Ray Neal, Geraldine Lois Sisemore, Ruby Aline Arndt, and James Arndt, Jr.

On Saturday, April 8, the teacher, Miss Mary Sue Monsees, took the graduates to Kansas City to see the Ice Capades and to shop in some of the department stores.

Graduation exercises were held Wednesday night, April 19. The school room was decorated with snapdragons given by the graduates' parents and paper streamers of their class colors, blue and gold, with a large poster upon which was printed their motto, "Upward Not Downward," as the center of interest. All had corsages or boutonnières of Talisman roses as these were their chosen flowers.

Program Presented

At 8:00 p.m. the following program was presented:

Processional; graduates; salutatory address, Geraldine Sisemore; class inventory, Ruby Arndt; class will, Carol Dunker, seventh grade; class song, graduates; class prophecy, Luther Jordan, seventh grade; class poem, James Arndt, Jr.; valedictory address, Bennie Ray Neal; commencement address, Reverend H. U. Campbell; presentation of diplomas and gifts, M. F. Houk, president of school board; "Now the Day Is Over," sung by audience; closing prayer, Reverend Campbell.

After the program graduates received many gifts from teachers, friends, and classmates while the teacher, Miss Monsees, received some nice gifts from her graduates.

On Friday night, April 21, the graduates and teacher had a special table during the basket supper. An enormous six-tier decorated cake served as the centerpiece.

If Your Adam's Apple is Hardening, Take Heed

By Alton L. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK, April 29—(AP)—Your adam's apple may become a mirror of what age is doing to you, how healthy you are staying.

It already has been found to be a fairly good mirror of how much your arteries are hardening. This hardening is one of the leading causes of death.

The studies are being made by Dr. Gustave J. Noback, associate professor of anatomy at Cornell university medical college.

In childhood and youth, your adam's apple consists of cartilage or gristle. As you grow older, it slowly changes into bone through deposits of calcium. Finally, at about 75 or 80, the whole adam's apple will be bone.

This change occurs in everyone. At 55, the Adam's apple is about half bone, half gristle.

Traced by X-Rays
Dr. Noback traced the change by x-rays of hundreds of living people. The parts of the adam's apple which have changed to bone show up as white areas on the x-ray picture.

When half of the adam's apple has changed to bone, there's a very good chance that your arteries have started to harden, Dr. Noback discovered.

This was learned by autopsy findings, comparing the degree of ossification of the adam's apple with the appearance of mineral deposits in the aorta, the great artery leading from the heart. In 80 percent of his cases, the aorta had started to harden when the adam's apple was more than half bone. Hardening of the aorta is the first sign of hardening of the arteries. They become less elastic, and it is harder for the heart to pump blood through them.

So the adam's apple x-rays may become a yardstick to warn of hardening of the arteries, and other age changes, Dr. Noback said. The two events seem to be connected.

Some Age Rapidly
A man of 35, whose adam's apple is like that of a man of 70, may be aging much more rapidly than normal, Dr. Noback said.

He is investigating whether the adam's apple changes may also be related to other defects of aging, such as brittleness of bones, and the ability of the eye to adjust quickly to changes in seeing conditions.

Your adam's apple consists of two rectangular slices of cartilage, set at an angle and joined at the front. In men, each piece is about 2 by 2 1/2 inches. In women, each piece is smaller. The change from cartilage to bone follows a different pattern in men

Two Missing From Burning Fishing Craft

GAY, Mich., May 2—(AP)—Two men were missing today after a fire on their 40-foot fishing craft in the icy waters of Lake Superior. The fire-marked hull of the ship Victory was discovered late Monday by fishermen off Traverse point on upper Michigan's Keweenaw peninsula.

The Whigs Political Party Has a Member
SANTA PAULA, Calif., May 2—(AP)—Robert Q. Simmons doesn't like the California election law which permits a Republican candidate to crossfile as a Democrat, and vice versa.

So in registering as a voter he signed as a member of a political party which hasn't functioned for 90 years—the Whigs.

IT IS SENSIBLE TO BE PREPARED!

The plan we sponsor, which provides funeral benefits to its members, is safe and sensible. An entire family can be protected with one application, one premium, one certificate. There is no medical examination and the cost is surprisingly low. We are proud of the fact that we were the FIRST to offer the people of this community a plan that PROVIDES funds for funeral expenses.

One Way to Get Attention

By Thomas A. Reedy

BERLIN, May 2—(AP)—The young Communists of East Germany unveiled their "agitation groups" yesterday in a dress rehearsal of Whitsunday's march on Berlin.

They did their practicing only in east Berlin, where it was safe. The blue-shirted "free German youth" (FDJ) have borrowed an old carnival trick to put on their "agitation" act. They use stoges.

Two groups which set up shop on sun-baked Unter Den Linden, east of the Brandenburg Gate, illustrated how the agitation is supposed to work.

A uniformed FDJ boy gets into a simulated argument with another young German who is not in uniform. This attracts a crowd.

A few mutter angrily when the "unconvinced" youth says that everything doesn't seem so rosy to him and asks what is so good about the "national front" or the socialist unity (Communist) party and what is so bad about the Americans or the British.

The FDJ boy holds up his hand and commands the crowd to give the dissenter a chance. He uses this spot to talk at great length about freedom of speech and opinion.

Killed Mother, Then Himself

NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—A Brooklyn man killed his 81-year-old, semi-invalid mother with a blackjack and committed suicide yesterday.

Police theorized that the son—planning suicide because of poor health and financial losses—decided to kill his mother first rather than leave her without his care.

The deaths of Mrs. Mary Block and her son, Gaston Block, Jr., 47, were listed officially as murder and suicide.

The body of the aged mother, killed by blows on the head, was found covered by a clean white sheet in their home.

BIRTHS

Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connelly, of Fresno, Calif., at 12:00 o'clock midnight Saturday. The baby weighed five and one-half pounds and has been named William Henry. Mr. Connelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connelly, 215 West Seventh street.

Son, born to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Staley, Jr., 826 West Sixth street, at 5:36 o'clock Monday evening at Bothwell hospital. Weight: Six pounds, two ounces.

Divorcees Re-married

HARRISON, Ark., May 2—(AP)—Rex Rainey, Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Carmen Rainey, divorced last February, were remarried in a ceremony here Sunday.

The Rev. Golder Lawrence of the First Methodist church said he performed the ceremony here. Rainey, former Marshallfield, Mo., undertaker, is free on $2,000 bond on charges of felonious assault with intent to kill in connection with an attack on Mrs. Rainey by another woman last Oct. 19.

Miss Mary Margaret Evans, 31, Springfield telephone switchboard operator, was convicted March 21 of felonious assault with intent to kill and sentenced to four years in prison. At her trial she testified she entered a bedroom where Mrs. Rainey was alone and fought with her.

Miss Evans testified at the trial that she had a five-year love affair with Rainey. Her bond of $2,000 was continued pending motions for a new trial.

Square Off to Get Together

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(AP)—The City of Kansas City and the Kansas City Public Service company squared off today in a hearing before the state public service commission.

The transit utility, now being operated by the state while labor and management continue to seek a settlement of their differences, has asked for permission to abandon 12 streetcar and bus lines and curtail service on three others.

The company said the lines don't even pay their own way and, instead, make up the principal source of the utility's $750,000 deficit.

Jerome M. Joffe, special utilities counsel for the city, made a heated speech before the hearing was formally started.

Advertising Man to Address Kiwanis

Carl Postelthwaite, owner and manager of an advertising agency in Kansas City, will be the guest speaker at the noonday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon, at the Bothwell hotel. He will give a "chalk talk" on advertising.

second trip sometime during the afternoon. All mail not distributed to the carriers by 8:30 a. m. will not be delivered in the afternoons as here-to-fore but will be delayed one full day except in the business district. In order to insure prompt delivery of mail it will be necessary to send it "Special Delivery." To quote the Postmaster General "Under the one-trip system a large percentage of patrons will receive mail at their homes in the afternoon."

"2. Again quoting the Postmaster General "the last collection of the day should be completed so that the mail will reach the Post Office not later than 8:30 p. m." This means that the collections will begin at an earlier hour and that business and other patrons must have their mail deposited in letter boxes before this collection is made or the mail will not be collected until the following day.

This could easily result in mail for local delivery being delayed two days. Also, this change in collection service will slow down mail addressed to out-of-town points. This situation is not peculiar to just this post office but applies to all post offices throughout the nation. Mail to Sedalia from other points will also be slowed down by this procedure.

"3. Quoting the Postmaster General again "window service at the main office shall be provided from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m." This means that many business men and salesmen will not be able to call at the post office prior to 8 a. m. as here-to-fore. Those patrons desiring to change their delivery to Post Office boxes will not be able to do so as there has been a waiting list for this service for some time.

"4. Item 14 of the Postmaster General's order states "Discontinue preferential treatment of so-called time limit third class matter. Mailers desiring such handling of their circulars should be courteously informed that in order to secure immediate service it will be necessary to prepay the mail at the first-class postage rate." As you can see, in order to secure prompt service of this mail, considerable additional expense to the firm, organization or church will be entailed.

"5. Bulk mailing of parcel post and circulars will not be received at the loading dock after 6 p. m. Here-to-fore this type of mail has been accepted at any hour of the day or night.

"6. Item 20 of the Postmaster General's orders states "Postmaster will immediately discontinue directory service on ordinary mail other than perishable matter and parcels of obvious value. Directory service will be continued on Special Delivery, Registered, Insured, and C. O. D. mail. In providing this limited service postmasters will discontinue the maintenance of specially prepared interleave directories. This means that all mail, including first-class and Air-Mail, which is improperly or incompletely addressed will be returned to the sender. Even the effort at limited directory service will be hampered by not having an up-to-date directory. In the past every effort has been made to supply addresses to improperly addressed mail and in most cases it is delivered after only a slight delay required for directory service."

"The savings to be brought about by the above mentioned reductions in service at the local Post Office are estimated at $7,500.00 per year through the dismissal of two employees and reduction of hours worked by others. Using 25,000 as the population served by the local office the per capita saving per year would be .3¢ or 02 1/2¢ per capita per month.

"If these savings do not prove adequate further suggested cuts in the service may be in the offing with Monday's average: good and choice 180 to 260 pounds $17.25 to $17.65; few choice 210 to 230 pounds $17.75; good and choice 270 to 310 pounds $18.50 to $17.25; sows steady to 25 cents lower at $13.75 to $15.50; steers $13.00 and down.

Sheep 4.000; active spring lambs fully 35 cents higher; clipped lambs 35 to 75 cents higher; 224 about steady; numerous shipments good and choice native spring lambs $30.00; sales at the price include 94 pound averages; several cars good and choice clipped lambs with No. 1 and No. 2 skins $25.00 to $26.00; 119 pound shipments $25.00; medium and good consignment $24.50; odd lots good and choice shorn ewes $11.50.

Mackenzie's Column

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the state department, says the capture of Hainan island by the Chinese Communists calls for American action to keep the strategic island of Formosa out of Red hands.
Why? Mr. Dulles doesn't amplify that but leaves us to figure it out. One very obvious answer is that Formosa not only is Gen.
Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters but is the seat of what is left of the Nationalist government — a castle with a ghost. It's about the last bit of Chinese soil Chiang has for refuge.
But supposing Uncle Sam maintains the Nationalists on the island, what practical purpose will it serve? Does Chiang have a chance of retrieving his position and reconquering China?
haps would figure Chiang's chances as a long shot. However, the generalissimo maintains that he still can turn the trick if he gets support. Here are some of his reasons:
While the Communists ostensibly have "conquered" the vast mainland, the Nationalists claim that actually there are many areas which still are in the hands of guerrillas who have no use for the Reds and are prepared to cast their lot with Chiang.
For instance, take the great province of Szechwan, seat of the old Chinese capital of Chungking.
In this province, through which runs the mighty Yangtze river, there are 140 counties and the Nationalists report that more than 70 of them are in the hands of guerrillas. One estimate places the old Nationalist troops still in the Yangtze valley at 200,000.
And why haven't the Chinese Communists liquidated all these pockets of guerrillas? Probably for the same reason that the Japs were unable to mop them up in all the years of the Chino-Japanese fighting. The vastness of the country and its rugged terrain are adapted to the existence of small bodies of fighting men.
It's a territory that is hard to control unless the country is peaceful.
Then there's another important aspect of the situation. It is essential that the Chinese Communists knock out the Nationalist government and military headquarters on Formosa for economic reasons.
A Chinese Nationalist official tells me that it takes the tax on thirty peasants to keep one soldier going. He estimates that the Communists have over 7,000-000 troops under arms. If Formosa can be knocked out and the generalissimo can be rendered helpless, the Reds can demobilize and thereby cut the taxation which is so irksome to the Chinese.
In this connection the terrible famine which has been sweeping the Yangtze valley is harrasing the Red regime. Reports have it that millions are facing death by starvation.
And finally we have to note that Formosa is a highly strategic stronghold lying 100 miles off the Chinese coast on traffic lanes between Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia. This "picture book" island is about twice the size of New Jersey and has a population of some 6,000,000. The island is a treasure house of coal, oil and other essentials.
More to the point, it is an admirable airplane base, and has been called an anchored airplane carrier.

Jeers At New York Parade

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—New York's annual May Day parade was held to the accompaniment of scattered jeers from spectators and a few outbreaks of fighting.
Police estimated 13,000 persons took part in the chanting procession down Eighth Avenue to a sparsely attended rally in Union Square. Five persons were arrested on disorderly parades in years.
Eugene Dennis, secretary-general of the Communist party, and other Communist officials under sentence for criminal conspiracy addressed a crowd of about 3,000 at the reviewing stand.
Dennis declared that his conviction and sentencing is proof that the Truman administration and its supporters "are preparing for war."

graduates from the Georgetown school were Loretta Miller and Jimmie Dunham.
Following the program a basket dinner was served at the noon hour. Games of baseball were played in the afternoon.
Mrs. Carl Farris has been elected to teach a third term at the Georgetown school.

Bunker Hill Club Meeting

The Bunker Hill 4-H club held its monthly meeting at the home of Vera Dean Schlesselman Friday night, April 21.
The meeting was opened by repeating the club pledge led by the president, Roland Oelrichs.
Roll call was answered by seven members and Rural Life Sunday was discussed.
Ralph Lemler gave a demonstration on making a rope halter and first aid suggestions were read by the president.
Songs were led by the song leader and games were played.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clarence Schlesselman.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruby Lee Vajen on May 19.

Pledges Mount

NEW YORK, May 1—(P)—Contributions and pledges for the Damon Runyon memorial cancer fund mounted toward the $1-400,000 mark today after comedian Milton Berle's 21½-hour television marathon of entertainment and money appeal.
The latest figure announced on the amount pledged was $1,304-835. But National Broadcasting company salesmen said that would be swelled considerably by later reports today.

Sees Great Era Of Opportunity

WICHITA, Kas., May 2—(P)— American youth faces "the greatest era of opportunity in the history of the world," Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas told a district conference of electrical contractors and union labor Monday.
But ultimate success and prosperity will depend upon ability to live peacefully with people in this nation and abroad, Carlson added.
He spoke at opening sessions of the conference of the National Electrical Contractors Association and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Delegates from Kansas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona were among the 700 registered.
Carlson praised the conferees for their joint meeting as evidence of labor-management harmony.
Atomic energy, aviation, radar, electricity and other scientific discoveries must be harnessed for peaceful use, he said; progress will depend upon solution of the problem of human relations.

Pulitzer Prize To "South Pacific"

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—The fabulously successful Broadway hit
"South Pacific" won the 1950
Pulitzer prize for drama Monday while the annual award for fiction went to A. B. Guthrie's best-selling historical novel, "The Way West."
These and other Pulitzer prizes in Journalism, letters and music were announced by President Dwight D. Eisenhower of Columbia University.
"South Pacific," a standing-room-only hit since it opened April 7, 1949, was written and produced by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. It is based on James A. Michener's book "Tales of the South Pacific," which won the Pulitzer prize for fiction in 1948. Rodgers and Hammerstein received a special Pulitzer award for their "Oklahoma" in 1944.
Awards for disinterested and meritorious public service went to the Chicago Daily News and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for a series of articles disclosing the presence of 51 Illinois newspapermen on the state payroll. The articles were written jointly by George Thiem and Roy J. Harris.

GOING THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE?
So many women between the ages of 38 and 52 have good reason to hate "change of life" — the time when fertility ebbs away — when embarrassing symptoms of this nature may betray your age!
If this functional period makes you suffer from hot flashes or makes you feel so weak, nervous, restless, hard to live and work with — try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Women by the thousands have reported remarkable benefits. No other medicine of this type for women has such a long record of success.
Regular use of Lydia E. Pinkham's

Until The Ninth The Dodgers Were In Front, 2 to 0

By Joe Reichler Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are up to their old tricks again. Next to beating the Dodgers, the Redbirds get the greatest delight out of making the experts look foolish.

Remember those pre-season reports on the Cards? Too old. No reserves. A one-man ball club. Tsk, tsk. Is our face red?

With a lineup shot as full of holes as a slab of Swiss cheese, the scrappy St. Louis gang has managed to win five of its last six games. They capped it off last night with a thrilling victory over their hated rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

3-2 Score
The score was 3-2. Until the last half of the ninth, Brooklyn was in front, 2-0. Starter Joe Hatten had held the Redbirds to three hits up to that point.

Hatten began the last inning by walking Chuck Diering. Enos Slaughter singled Diering to second. Marty Marion, making his first appearance of the season, batted for Steve Bilko and fanned.

Eddie Kazak, another pinch hitter, lined out. One more out to go and the Dodger lefthander would own two straight shutouts. But it never came.

A Wild Pitch
A wild pitch by Ramsdell allowed Schoendienst to cross the plate with the winning run. Hatten was charged with the loss.

Cloyd Boyer, who has taken over the ailing Ted Wilks' relief chores, was the winning pitcher. He relieved starter Max Lanier in the ninth and kept the Dodgers away from the plate in the one inning he worked.

The victory moved the Cards into a virtual tie for second place, a game and a half behind the front-running Dodgers.

It was the only game played in the National League. All other teams were idle, resting up for their inter-sectional clashes. There was no action in the American League. Philadelphia and Boston, only clubs scheduled, were fouled by the weather. A steady Boston drizzle decided matters for them.

One Mile Test For 11 Colts Opens Today

By John Chandler

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2—(P)—Texas-bred Middleground will show his stuff to the blue grass boys today in the $100,000-added derby trial stakes at Churchill Downs. If he wins, don't be surprised if King Ranch pops up as the post-time betting choice in the $100,000 Kentucky derby Saturday.

Eleven three-year old colts were entered for the one mile test, set for 4:23 p.m. (EST). Middleground, who was rated the top sophomore runner in the experimental handicapper's estimation of handicapper John Campbell, is expected to be favored for this 13th derby trial. The thing that thickens the plot for King Ranch is another one—On The Mark.

It will mark the first meeting between the sturdy Middleground and several other prime derby candidates, including Calumet farm's Theory and the Brookmeade stable entry of Sunglow and Greek Ship.

Ready to Roll
Such big derby names as Your Host, Hill Prince, Oil Capitol and Mr. Trouble are passing up the derby trial. They are fit and ready to roll Saturday, their trainers declare.

Theory skipped the Blue Grass stakes won by Mr. Trouble last week at Keeneland. This will be the first start for Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan's Sunglow and Greek Ship since they ran one-two in the Chesapeake stakes April 15 at Havre de Grace, Md.

Middleground, one of the best juveniles last season, has been second in three starts this spring. His last was back of Hill Prince in the Wood memorial at Jamaica April 22, where he was carried wide at the top of the stretch and lost ground and any chance to catch the Prince.

A lot of Texas money will be here Saturday, judging by what happened two years ago when My Request was the opening choice over the great Citation. Citation closed the odds-on favorite, but the Texas-owned My Request got the heavy play.

Bob Feller Opens Season In Good Form

'I'm Not Out to Set The World on Fire,' Hurler Said

By Raleigh H. Allsbrook CLEVELAND, May 2—(P)—What's behind Bob Feller's striking return to form in his two starts for Cleveland's Indians this season?

Better control and freedom from injuries. "That's 99 per cent of it," says Bob.

The big righthander, in an interview last night before the Tribe left for the east, also said he has been "pretty lucky in getting good breaks."

Feller won both of his two starts with polished performances. He pitched a five-hitter against St. Louis on April 22 and scattered eight blows in beating Detroit last Friday.

In 1949 he didn't win his second game until June 14, when he also had six losses tied to his record. He ended that year with 15 wins and 14 losses and many of the fans said this year might be his last in baseball.

Different Viewpoint
The former strikeout king now takes a strictly matter-of-fact viewpoint on his pitching.

"I've broken all the records I ever hope to break," he said. "I'm not out to set the world on fire this year. I just hope I can be a good pitcher and help the club win the pennant."

He also thinks it's pretty early in the season to be talking about how good or how bad he is. But he is willing to discuss some of the contributing factors.

Last year and the year before a sore shoulder bothered him well into the season. In 1947, when he began to go down, he slipped off the mound in Philadelphia and hurt his back and a rib.

This year he worked under wraps in spring training and got cuffed around pretty badly. But he came out without any injuries, as he intended.

Two Rookie Hurlers in Good Form in Am. Assn.

By the Associated Press

A pair of young rookie pitchers are crowding the American Association hero's bench today.

Hoyt Wilhelm, a 23-year old righthander who notched 17-12 for Jacksonville, Fla., last year, twirled his second four-hitter of the campaign to give Minneapolis a 4-1 triumph over St. Paul Monday night.

The victory, the Millers' fifth in six starts, hoisted them into the lead in posting his second win. Wilhelm allowed only one hit after the second inning to beat veteran Phil Haugstad.

Masterful Chore

Another masterful chore was tabbed by 18-year old Ben Johnson of Milwaukee. The 6 foot 2 inch righthander, who had a 3-2 mark for Evansville, Ind., in 1949, limited Kansas City to seven blows in winning a 2-1 verdict. Mickey Witek homered for the Blues in the second inning, but thereafter only two reached scoring position off Johnson.

Johnson beat rookie southpaw Ed Ford, up from Birmingham where he booked 16-5. Ford weakened after six innings and the Blues evened the score in the seventh on a walk and Jack Weisenburger's double. With two out in the eighth, Howie Moss was hit by a pitched ball and Logan finally singled in the winning run after a walk to Ray Sanders.

Second-place Indianapolis made it nine wins in 11 games and a four-game winning streak by tripping Louisville 3-1. Joe Muir scattered ten hits to win and also singled in Dann O'Connell in the seventh to break a 1-all tie.

Columbus Pasted Toledo
Columbus pasted Toledo with its 10th loss in 11 starts by grabbing a 5-1 decision. The Redbirds collected nine hits off three Hen flingers, bunching three of them with two Toledo errors for three runs in the fifth. The Brood left 16 men stranded.

Today's schedule and probable

Here Wednesday

Miss Mae Young, Tulsa, Okla. who comes to Sedalia on Wednesday night to meet Miss Ellen Olson, Camden, N. J., in the semi-windup on the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling show to be held at the National Guard armory. One other match between women will be held as the opening event, and the main event brings together "Sonny" Meyers of St. Joseph, Mo., and "Dutch" Hefner of Sherman, Texas.

Women Wrestlers Here Wednesday

Women wrestlers will be in the Sedalia ring this Wednesday night, in addition to two men wrestlers, Dutch Hefner of Sherman, Texas and Sonny Meyers, of St. Joseph, who will clash in the main event.

The Hefner-Meyers event should be one of action, as both matmen are evenly matched for this heavy-weight bout, that will be two falls out of three with a 90-minute time limit. Both have appeared in the local ring before and fans should know the tactics both use against their opponents.

Ma Young, of Tulsa, Okla., a former Evangelist, returns to the mat ring, after a two year absence. She will tangle with Ellen Olson of Camden, N. J., in the semi-windup. Young is a wrestler with plenty of experience. Her opponent is new in the Midwest territory, but her wrestling reputation is outstanding on the east coast. Fans can expect plenty of action in the semi-windup.

Opening the evening of mat action, starting at 8:30 p. m., under the sponsorship of American Legion Post No. 16, will be Eva Lee of Houston, Tex., and Therese Theis, Minneapolis, Minn., in a one-fall event. It is the first appearance of these two girls in the Sedalia ring, according to promoter Pearl Christy.

Jack Hader of Kansas City will endeavor to rule the matches when the girls climb through the ropes.

French Fighter Wins Middleweight Bout

MONTREAL, May 2—(P)—Flashy Laurent Dauthuille of France earned the right to take a crack at Jake LaMotta's mid-dleweight crown here last night as he swept aside New York's Steve Belloise with a seventh-round technical knockout in a scheduled 10-round main bout.

Once the pride of New York's

pitchers:

Minneapolis (Barnhill) at St. Paul (Chandler) night.

Kansas City (Radcliffe-Hood) at Milwaukee (Elliott-Webb) tonight.

Columbus (Haddix) at Toledo (Marlowe) day.

An Old 'Vet' Leads Golfers In Western

133 Players Enter Into the Second Qualifying Round

DALLAS, May 2—(P)—Old indestructible—David (Spec) Goldman—who was a top national golf name when his opponents here were in grammar school, and Buster Reed, 20-year old collegian, led the way today into the second 18-hole qualifying round of the Western Amateur.

Drawing Spec is playing this one with a big belt bracing his side. He suffered a fractured rib recently.

The Dallas veteran, and Reed, a North Texas State college student from Denton, Tex., who is just half Goldman's age, led the first 18-hole round yesterday with two-under-par 70's.

And right behind them were John Oliver of Dallas, Morris Williams, Jr., of Austin and a Shreveport, La., star, Jimmy McGonagill. They posted 71's.

Treacherous Course

Heavy rains last night made the Dallas country club's 6,470-yard course a treacherous place indeed as the field, tumbled to 133 players by withdrawals, moved out in the second and final 18-hole qualifying round.

Tomorrow the low 64 shooters will start match play and battle until a champion is determined Sunday.

Defending champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo isn't shooting qualifying scores; he qualified automatically for the championship flight.

In a tie at 72 as the second round began today were Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, a Walker cup star; Charles Coe of Oklahoma City, the National Amateur champion who four-putted the No. 12 green; Herbert Durham of Dallas, Dick Patton of Fort Worth and Raleigh Selby of Kilgore, Tex.

Anderson to be Head Coach Of 1950 College All-Stars

CHICAGO, May 2—(P)—Dr. Eddie Anderson is to be head coach of the 1950 college all-stars for their football game in Soldier field Aug. 11 with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Anderson returns to Holy Cross this year after coaching at the University of Iowa from 1939 to 1949, excepting the war years. He was at the Holy Cross helm from 1933 to 1938.

Missouri U. Defeated Westminster in Golf

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 2—(P)—University of Missouri golfers scored a 14 1/2-6 1/2 victory over Westminster College in golf here yesterday.

fistic lanes, Belloise gave a disappointing show before 11,593 fans, who contributed a gross gate of $44,353.

Referee Tommy Sullivan halted the one-sided affair just after the seventh round started when Belloise, a 31-year-old ring veteran, was incapable of offering any more resistance to his 26-year-old ringwise opponent.

Recollection of National League Baseball in 1800's

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, May 2—(P)—Except for the years 1877-78 and 1892-99, the National League has been strictly an eight-team league. From '77 through '78, it operated with only six clubs. From '92 through '99 there were 12 teams, and this top-heavy structure produced some of the greatest teams in history.

After three straight Boston pennants, Ned Hanlon's swashbuckling crew from Baltimore took over and reeled off three straight flags. Colorful Team

The Orioles were one of the most colorful teams in baseball, with such players as John McGraw "hit 'em where they ain't" Willie Keeler, "Wilbert Robinson, Hughie Jennings, Joe Kelley, Jack Doyle and Kid Gleason. All except Keeler later became big league managers.

In 1899, Hanlon went to Brooklyn, taking with him Keeler, Kelley, Jennings, Dan McGann and other Orioles. He promptly won the pennant there in the last season of the 12-club circuit.

Hit .438

Hughie Duffy of Boston hit .438 in 1894, the highest average ever amassed in the majors. Napoleon Lajoie came up with the Phillies in 1896, and Honus Wagner arrived with Louisville the following year. Cy Young, the only pitcher to win 500 or more games, made his debut in Cleveland in 1890, but it was in the 12-club league that he first achieved real greatness, winning 68 games in '92 and '93.

During the National League's existence the life of the organization was threatened five times. Although at times the future was doubtful, the league was always able to withstand the attacks. The baseball wars were with the American Association in 1882, the Union Association in 1884, the Players League in 1890, the American League in 1901-02 and the Federal League in 1914-15.

Greatest War

The Union and Players' Leagues each lasted one year, the Federal two and the A.A. ten. The National League's greatest war was with the American League and this resulted in a new organization gaining a firm foothold in the baseball world. The new league actually was formed in 193 under the name of the Northwestern League, by Ban Johnson.

It wasn't until 1900 that it began agitating for major classification. The first move was to raid the National of many of its star players. The war was settled after two years of bitter strife by a treaty made in Cincinnati when the present national agreement was formulated.

A Victorian Day For Arkansas Teams

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 2—(P)—Littfielder Marvin Stendel's three-run homer paced Arkansas to a 4-0 victory over the Tulsa University baseball team here yesterday.

Otherwise, the game was a pitcher's battle between Tulsa's John Brochis and Arkansas' John Balay, despite cold, wet, windy weather.

The two teams play here again today.

The Arkansas golf team also was victorious yesterday, defeating Southern Methodist University 5 1/2 to 1/2. Welling Eisenman, Randy Warner and Warner Marks of Arkansas won individual matches and James Mosely halved his match with SMU's Raymond Mann. The Eisenman-Warner and Mosely-Marks teams also won.

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Life With the Tax Gremlins" is a 12-part thumbnail story of the nation's complicated tax structure. The characters: Uncle Sam, himself, his Gremlin, State and Local Tax Gremlins, and you—the taxpayers. It's from an "American Affairs" pamphlet published by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York, an independent, non-profit fact-finding institution supported by business, labor and other groups. Some of the articles include comment by Richard A. Mullens, Washington tax expert and author of NEA's annual "Income Tax Primer," which appears each year in the Sedalia Democrat.

You first meet the Gremlins at the payroll window. Before you can touch your money they clip it. If you are an average industrial worker with no dependents the federal Gremlin takes more than 10 cents out of each dollar (the A.F. of L. says 11½ cents) for your federal income tax. If you are married it will be less, according to the number of your exemptions.

But that is not all. Both state and local Gremlins clip it again for your state and local income taxes. In 31 states and 172 cities and counties your pay envelope is raided for income taxes, in addition to the federal income tax. Then both the federal and state Gremlins clip each dollar of your money for 4 to 5 cents more on account of social security deductions which they collect jointly.

"We would not have an ever-expanding government if the people were conscious of the taxes they are paying to the Federal Government. When the government required employers to withhold income taxes from employees, the government put the worker taxes. In 31 states and 172 cities and counties your pay envelope

"Visions" Stimulate Search
SINGAPORE—(P)—Visions of a soldier on the shores of a lake have provoked British security forces in Malaya to renew their hunt for Brigadier M. D. Erskine, commander of the Second Guards Brigade. He has been missing since Oct. 30 on a flight between Mentakao, in Pahang state, to Kuala Lumpur, the Federal capital.
"The visions tallied so remarkably that we could not afford to ignore them," said an army spokesman. The forecasts of one of the U.K. seers have proved accurate in the past.

Early American colonists in New England not only forbade the celebration of Christmas as a holiday, but the singing of carols.

Kem Wants Tighter Rein On Arms Aid

Declares Some Is Reported To Reach Russia

WASHINGTON, May 2—(P)—Senator Kem (R-Mo) declared Monday he has received "startling evidence" that Marshall plan countries are "making substantial shipments of war materials, including arms, to Russia and her satellites."

In another speech on the foreign air question, Senator Jenner (R-Ind) said that every day the Marshall plan "becomes more of a fraud and a swindle."

The Senate is scheduled to vote Friday on the $3,372,450,000 foreign aid authorization bill which already has been under debate intermittently for three weeks.

Kem said the real beneficiaries of U. S. foreign aid may be the Communists, and he shouted to the Senate:

"I oppose the use of American aid by the present British Marxist government to coddle Communism."

He said he believes the appointment of John Strachey as Britain's minister of war "is a key move in a carefully calculated plot of Communist forces to dominate the world."

Kem said that Strachey has "quite a record as a Communist writer and Communist worker." Strachey has said he renounced years ago his early writings in support of Communism.

Kem said that Britain, France and Belgium all have sent war materials to Russia or Russian satellites. He urged that the United States cut off aid to any country which sends war materials behind the iron curtain.

The House armed services committee gave quick approval to a $350,000,000 Navy modernization program which includes plans for an atomic powered submarine and a guided missile ship.

Gambling Hearings
The Communist and Gambling hearings continued in the Senate.

Freda Utley, a former Communist, told investigating senators that while she has no proof that Owen Lattimore ever joined the Communist party, his writings since 1938 show "his subservience to Communist party discipline." On the other hand, Demaree Bess, Saturday Evening Post editor who called Lattimore an old friend, said he and Lattimore were together in China and in 1936 in Moscow and that Lattimore showed no signs of becoming pro-Communist.

At the gambling hearing being conducted by a Senate Commerce subcommittee, Senator Tobey (R-NH) said that telephone companies are "aiding and abetting" gamblers by continuing to furnish them phone service.

The committee is considering a bill to prohibit the transmission of gambling information across state lines.

Communist Girls Parade in Berlin

Members of a Communist girls sports group carry banners and flags as they march on Unter Den Linden in East Berlin's Communist May Day celebration. While thousands of East Berlin Germans marched past Soviet and German Communist chieftains in the east zone replica of Moscow May Day parades, anti-Communist crowds gathered haphazardly in a West Berlin zone a few blocks away in a rival mass demonstration. Communist Youth Organization members carry propaganda signs and a huge portrait of Stalin in Lustgarten Square, in the Russian sector of Berlin, during the huge May Day celebration. A crowd of 250,000 took part in the demonstration in this sector.

Looks For Attack From Russia

WICHITA, Kas., May 2—(P)—A top Air Force general said Monday—May Day in the Communist bloc—that he believes war with Russia is "coming," with Russia as the attacker.

Gen. George C. Kenney, war-time head of allied air forces in the Pacific and one of two 4-star Air Force generals, first made his grim statement at a press and radio conference.

Then he elaborated on it at a luncheon meeting at which he was presented the Wichita Rotary club's gold medal for "distinguished citizenship."

Kenney told the Rotarians that the international situation now is so "explosive" that war could be touched off "at any moment" by a diplomatic blunder.

Soviet doctrine, he said, is one of "inevitable" conflict with the non-Communist countries.

Aggressive nations "usually go to war when they have war power sufficient that they're pretty sure they can win," he told the newsmen earlier.

Russian leaders "probably" have gone so far as to set a year for attack, he added.

The United States, as "the main hope of the freedom-loving peoples of the world," also is "the primary target of attack by any aggressor seeking world domina-

Orchestra Is Tendered Dinner

The Sedalia Symphony orchestra personnel were guests of the Symphony board Monday night at a dinner in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel, with the Rev. H. U. Campbell, president of the board, presiding.

One hundred and three attended the dinner. The Rev. Warren Neal gave the invocation. The introduction of the board members and other special guests, including the Symphony Society then followed. Miss Geraldine Teufel, assistant conductor and Abe Rosenthal conductor were also introduced.

A quartet from the Sedalia Men's Choral club sang several numbers. The quartet consisted of Al Domingue, Ad Taylor, Dean Binderup and Charles Maggard. Miss Teufel accompanied the four on several selections.

Dr. Guss C. Salley of Warsaw, amateur magician gave the after dinner entertainment with his usual mysterious slight of hand tricks.

The announcement was made that the election of officers for the board for the coming year will be held on May 22 in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Official Vote On Rejecting Gasoline Tax Increase

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2—(P)—Missourians turned thumbs down on increased gasoline taxes last April 4 on a 528,201 to 179,094 vote, the official canvass showed Monday.

The canvass by the secretary of state's office made no change in the trend of tabulations as reported by the Associated Press April 4 and 5.

The completed tally showed only 32 of the 114 counties gave a majority to the proposal to hike the tax from two to four cents a gallon.

Woman Killed By Train

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., May 2—(P)—A St. Louis-bound Wabash passenger train Monday killed a 70-year-old widow at a railroad foot crossing she has used for 30 years.

The victim was Mrs. Neil Clark, widow of a Montgomery City real estate dealer.

Kenney said.

Such an attack, he added, would be carried out by atom bomb, hydrogen bomb, "or any other diabolical weapon" the aggressor has.
